If you would like to contribute toward this gift, you can do so by scanning the QR code or giving by check with Bishop's Sabbatical in the memo line, no later than June 15.

A New Season for Our Staff

by Fr. Wes Gristy

Over the next couple of months, we will be experiencing some significant administrative staff changes at All Saints you need to be aware of. Our Parish Administrator turned Financial Director, Donna Taylor, who has worked at All Saints for seventeen years, has retired. We give thanks to God for her many years of service to our church. If you would like to thank Donna for her many years of dedicated service, we will be collecting cards for her in the Parish Office during the month of June.

Our current Parish Administrator, Matthew Cook, who has wonderfully upgraded so many of our systems over the last year, will be moving with his family to Arizona in July where Haylee will begin a new travel role within her current company. In the meantime, along with some of his regular duties, he will be overseeing our bookkeeping and helping us transition to a new financial system. The good news is that, starting in July, he'll be able to work remotely for us as our Communications Director, continuing to provide support for our bulletins, newsletters, emails, and website.

We are also thrilled to announce that we have hired one of our own to become our new Parish Administrator starting in July. Her name is... wait for it... Anne Rushing! With her history at All Saints and her award-winning experience in manufacturing, Anne is a rock star who will provide a constant office presence accompanied by her amazing logistical, administrative, operational, and personal skills. She will be overseeing donor relations, bookkeeping, office and system management, ordering supplies, and volunteer management. She will be in the office Mondays to Thursdays, 9:00 am to 4:00 pm, as well as on Friday mornings. Be sure to congratulate her!

Since Anne Rushing currently serves on the Vestry as our Junior Warden, she will be stepping down from this role with the start of her job. Scott Huelin, who was elected to the Vestry this year, has agreed to serve as our Junior Warden. The Vestry then invited Sally Slack to finish Anne's one-and-a-half year term, and thankfully she has agreed.

Please be in prayer for all these transitions that will be taking place over the next month or so. We are grateful for how God continues to provide us with incredible staff and Vestry members to help us as a church pursue our mission.

Adventures from the Book of Acts

As our Formation Hour on Sundays takes a break for the summer, we have the opportunity to offer a Bible study in the Parish Hall from 8:45 to 9:45 am. Each week we will hear a different parishioner's reflection on an episode from the book of Acts. The driving question will be, "What does this story teach us about how to be the church today?" As we move into Ordinary Time in light of the promise of the Spirit given at Pentecost, these studies will be geared to strengthen our witness in the world. Here's the schedule:

June 2	2:36-47	A New Family Formed	Fr. Wes Gristy

Responding to the Diaper Need

by Olivia Abernathy

Thanks to the Parishioners of All Saints and the contributions from so many, The Diaper Project has received an overwhelming response from the community. Through your generous contributions, we were able to raise enough funds to purchase two complete pallets of diapers!

We will begin distributing diapers in June. Distribution days will be exciting times to see our Mission Abbey vision come to life with families from all over the community coming to the church and leaving with one of their basic needs met.

There are several opportunities to serve with this new ministry:

1. Volunteer on Distribution Days

We will host distribution days on the second Thursday of each month from 11:00 to 2:00 pm at the church. We will need volunteers to help run an efficient process by welcoming families, checking people in, retrieving sizes, etc. Distribution Days for the remainder of 2024 will be:

June 13
July 11
August 8
September 12
October 10
November 14
December 12

2. Volunteer on Diaper Prep Days

The Monday before each distribution we will host a Diaper Prep Day to pack diapers, organize sizes, and prepare packages for each family. We will open the Parish Hall from 2:00 to 5:00 pm for volunteers to assist with these tasks. You can come and go as you are able. This is also a great opportunity for youth who need service hours. Diaper Prep Days for the remainder of 2024 will be:

June 10
July 8
August 5
September 9
October 7
November 11
December 9

3. Donate Diapers

As we all know, diapers are not a renewable resource. You can help us keep inventory stocked by donating diapers or contributing to The Diaper Project Fund at any time. A diaper donation bin will be in the Parish Hall for your convenience.

We are very excited to begin offering this needed resource to our community. We have already received calls from community members looking for diapers, and we thank God for the opportunity He has given us to minister to families in this way. If you have any questions, comments, or want to get involved email olivia@allsaintsjackson.com

Just One Thing

Johann Sebastian Bach

by Dr. David Thomas

Where do we start with J. S. Bach? You know Bach, of course, as one of the greatest of composers. Coming from an extraordinarily musical family, Bach performed and composed from an early age. Let me offer one measure of his intensity and his skill: when he was twenty, Bach walked over 400 km (250 miles) to hear and learn from the renowned Dietrich Buxtehude, organist and composer in Lübeck, in northern Germany. Buxtehude—a magnet for young talent—likely introduced Bach to Johann Adam Reincken, another famous organist and composer, from whom Bach received lessons in composition. Both were deeply influential on Bach's music. Three months later he walked home to Arnstadt, in central Germany.

Bach's most prolific years began when he was hired as organist in the ducal court at Weimar in 1708. Six years later, in 1714, he was promoted to Konzertmeister, a substantial job that required leadership, performance, and composition. The Baroque was a richly innovative era, creating not just new music, but new forms of music, and developing older forms to maturity. Bach composed in all the forms that were fashionable, exciting, and new, including cantatas, sonatas, concertos, oratorios, opera, and more.

“The final aim and reason of all music is nothing other than the glorification of God and the refreshment of the spirit.”

—J.S. Bach

He wrote for orchestras, for voice, and for solo instruments like piano and pipe organ. Perhaps three-quarters of his composition was for the Church. Once he became Konzertmeister in Weimar, he was responsible for writing a cantata every four weeks for Sunday worship. For the next three years, Bach wrote, orchestrated, practiced, and performed a new cantata every month with virtually no repetition. These reflected the church calendar and drew on the texts for that Sunday's liturgy. At the same time, he was also composing in other forms mentioned above, and writing for secular commissions. He was prolific.

Bach wrote biblically, liturgically, and theologically. When he died, his estate included Bible commentaries, sermons, Luther's complete works, and a three-volume edition of Luther's translation of the Bible (with Bach's handwritten marginalia). He was a devout Christian, a traditional Lutheran in doctrine and practice, often closing his compositions with SDG, Soli Deo Gloria, Glory to God alone. His commitment to God and his familiarity with Scripture, liturgy, and Lutheran theology is evident in his music.

One prominent example is Cantata 21, one of his most acclaimed and discussed. The manuscript is dated 1714 and it was performed on the Third Sunday after Trinity in Weimar. A good representative of Bach's sacred music, Cantata 21 is best understood in musical, theological, and liturgical terms. Opening lament (tied to Psalm 42) moves into the patience required in tribulation, and then to God's love for the sinner and the fulfillment of divine promises (tears of sowing being transformed into shouts of joy in the harvest). The work culminates in the eschatological praise of God for which we were all created (Revelation 4). Musically as well as lyrically, the cantata depicts the movement of the soul towards God. Simultaneously, it narrates the larger movement of God's people from exile to redemption, from alienation to union with God, from darkness to hope and then to joy. Music and text join hands and unite behind one theological and devotional purpose.

Listening is essential: Cantata 21 is performed by the Netherlands Bach Society here, while an English translation of the lyrics are here. The piece was written for lament, longing, and joy in worship. So listen, enjoy, and allow Bach to give you a brief Sabbath rest in the music.

There is, as always, more. In the enormous literature on Bach, a good place to start is Jeremy Begbie and Steven Guthrie's edited collection of essays entitled Resonant Witness (2011). Read modern biographies with care; they tend to make Bach more religiously progressive than he was. And there are deeply technical works: Eric Chafe's work on Cantata 21, Tears Into Wine (2015), is an amazing six hundred pages long. Reading about music helps, but nothing beats listening. Most of Bach's music has survived, unlike Buxtehude's or Reincken's, and is readily available on Spotify, Youtube, CDs, and, yes, vinyl.

A Time to Grow

by Fr. Ben Williams

As the school year winds down and the summer vacations begin we now enter into the Ordinary or green season. As Fr. Wes often reminds us, the green seasons are times for growth. Having walked with Jesus from Advent through Eastertide, we continue the Christian year by following the Church in its mission in the world. The result is the growth of the Church. As many of you know, All Saints Anglican Church has been dedicated to this mission, particularly through the work of church planting. Mission Saint James launched weekly services just over a year ago and I want to take this opportunity to update you on what the Lord has been doing in our young new church.

We launched weekly services on April 23 of last year with 72 in attendance. We ended 2023 with an average of 53 in attendance. That average has decreased to 47 so far this year. Unfortunately, we have had to say goodbye to a few families, but the Lord has faithfully replenished our numbers with new faces. God has also blessed us financially. This year, much of our external funding has begun to taper off, which was expected. However, our internal giving has increased, which has allowed us to hire Ryan and Elyzabeth Pflasterer to help with administrative responsibilities. Likewise, we've been able to offer compensation for our music minister, Lucas Brogdon. In the last year MSJ held its first Instructed Eucharist, an Anglicanism 101 Class, an Easter Vigil, a block party, and pet blessing (just to name a few)! June will see our first VBS as well as our first catechism class in preparation for confirmations; additionally, plans are underway for service projects and outreach events through the end of the year. We have been busy, but we continue to need your help and prayers.

Our greatest need at the moment is more families with children. When we launched, there were as many children and youth as there were parents. Over the last year, that ratio has fallen. Church plants rely on an active and thriving children's ministry. We ask that you prayerfully consider joining Mission Saint James for 12 months as we grow this important ministry. Additionally, we are in search of a new music minister as Lucas Brogdon will be leaving Jackson in August to pursue seminary. This also is an important ministry for any church, especially for a church plant. If you or anyone you know might be interested in a part-time music ministry opportunity, please contact me at ben@stjamesjackson.org.

Finally, we ask that you keep Mission Saint James in your prayers. Below are some items that you can join us in petitioning our heavenly Father as we continue to seek growing in this green season.

- Evangelistic opportunities to develop relationships with those in our city who do not know Jesus
- Financial support
- A permanent meeting space
- 7 more households to join our mission
- A music minister
- Growth in discipleship, and
- A love of Holy Scripture

We are all called to church planting, even if we are not called to join a church plant. Remember to tell others about Mission Saint James. You are always welcome to visit us. We meet at 4:00 p.m. on Sunday afternoons at 863 W. Forest Ave. (Forest Heights United Methodist Church). Thank you for all of your support.

Honduras Mission

All Saints Anglican Church has been going on short term medical construction mission trips to Honduras since 1998 when we were part of Saint Luke's Episcopal Church. We have supported long term missionary Suzy McCall and the LAMB Institute, which she started. The LAMB Institute has two schools, a children's home where approximately 70 children live, a day care center, and other outreaches. Over the years we have made many friends and formed a wonderful partnership.

The medical team does primary care in the poorest neighborhoods in the capital city of Tegucigalpa. They treat approximately 1200 people who do not have access to adequate medical care. They have the same conditions that a primary care provider would see in USA and are given medications which they cannot afford to buy. The All Saints outreach pays is able to pay for medication and supplies.

The construction team does light construction at the children's home to keep things in tip-top-shape. They actually spend most of their time playing with the children.

Dr. Jim Warmbrod will lead this trip once again July 6–13 with a group from All Saints and the surrounding community. Please be in prayer for those going on the trip and for those they will encounter.

Support the Mission

There are several ways you can support this Mission and those going to Honduras:

1. Attend Pill Packing at All Saints on June 19 at 5:45 pm in the Parish Hall.
  - This is an opportunity to help create medicine packs to be distributed in Honduras. Pizza will be provided afterwards.
2. Bring toothbrushes and toothpaste to the church for a toothbrush drive on June 2 and 9.
  - Dr. Warmbrod and his team will distribute any supplies collected to the people in the clinic alongside the medication.
3. Pray for the team and the people of Honduras.

Outreach Highlight Isaac Lane Elementary

by Olivia Abernathy

In 2022, Madison County was ranked 95th out of 95 counties in Tennessee for child wellbeing by the Tennessee Commission on Children and Youth (TCCY). The rankings considered four categories: economic wellbeing, health, family and community, and education. Madison County's outcomes in all four categories were dismal, but especially in public education. No one wants to be ranked dead last in anything, but especially not in the wellbeing of our children. We've all heard the proverb "It takes a village to raise a child." With so many of our community's children struggling, I can't help but ask, where is their village?

The reality is that the children in our All Saints "village" are insulated from many of the struggles the TCCY report brought to light. They are loved. They are fed. They have caring parents who may not be perfect, but who nurture and attend to them. It would be easy to read a report like this and think, "this doesn't apply to me," especially if you do not have kids in the public school system.

But what if we widened our understanding of who is in our "village"? The prophet Jeremiah tells us we are to "seek the peace and prosperity of the city to which I have carried you into exile. Pray to the Lord for it, because if it prospers, you too will prosper" (Jeremiah 29:7). If we heed this call, we begin to see how our flourishing is inextricably bound to the flourishing of the children down the street and across town. We are called to be their village.

In the past, All Saints has supported education initiatives like The Read Team or purchasing school supplies for families through United Way. This year, we decided to focus our investment in education through a PIE partnership with one school – Isaac Lane Elementary. A PIE partner, or a "Partner in Education," is a business, church, or other community organization that signs up to be the "village" for a school through a long-term, supportive relationship. This can look like providing resources and funds, volunteering to help with special projects, or supporting and encouraging teachers and administrators.

As a PIE partner, we hope to find creative ways to invest in Isaac Lane students, their teachers, and their families. In May, our Men's Monksly group spent a Saturday morning landscaping the entrance of the school and beautifying the bathrooms. Through the Spring semester, our outreach funds helped to provide incentives for students with good behavior and teacher gifts during Teacher Appreciation Week.

Other opportunities to get involved:

- Sign up to be a volunteer with The Read Team. Volunteer reading coaches work with second graders on their reading skills for one hour a week.
- In August, Janet Gore will transition to become the new Principal at Isaac Lane. We invite you to pray for her and for the teachers and staff she will lead.
- Donate school supplies or school uniforms for Isaac Lane students as they start back to school in August (more information to come).
- Prayerfully imagine other ways that All Saints can "be the village" for the students and families at Isaac Lane.

Email Olivia Abernathy at olivia@allsaintsjackson.com for more information about these opportunities.

St. Paul's House of Formation

by Dn. Terry Blakley

This June will mark one year since my diaconal ordination at All Saints. What an adventure it has been to walk into this calling! I love being a deacon.

Becoming a deacon involves seasons of discernment, testing, examination, and study. Many lovely people of God mentored me on this journey, listening, questioning, meditating, and praying alongside me, ever-strengthening my assurance of this call. I will be ever grateful for each of these brothers and sisters in Christ.

Alongside the mentoring and testing, I needed to deepen my understanding of Anglican liturgical and sacramental traditions. I enrolled in St. Paul's House of Formation (SPHF), an online curriculum that "equips missional leaders with a solid grounding in five key areas: scripture, theology, liturgy, patristics, and church history."

For the past two years, I have worked through weekly lessons offered by SPHF, completing exams, exercises, and readings. Students were also required to meet weekly online with a small group of others enrolled in the program. My group consisted of four students exploring their call to ministry, including the diaconate.

Over the past two years, we've formed a close bond in our love for Jesus and call to his ministry of service. It has been a privilege to take this course of study with a group of people who will be my friends for life.

Having completed St. Paul's House of Formation course of study, I find that my understanding of all things Anglican has been deepened and enriched. SPHF is open to any who wish to explore Anglicanism from its ancient roots to its current form. Check it out here!

Provincial Assembly

by Fr. Wes Gristy

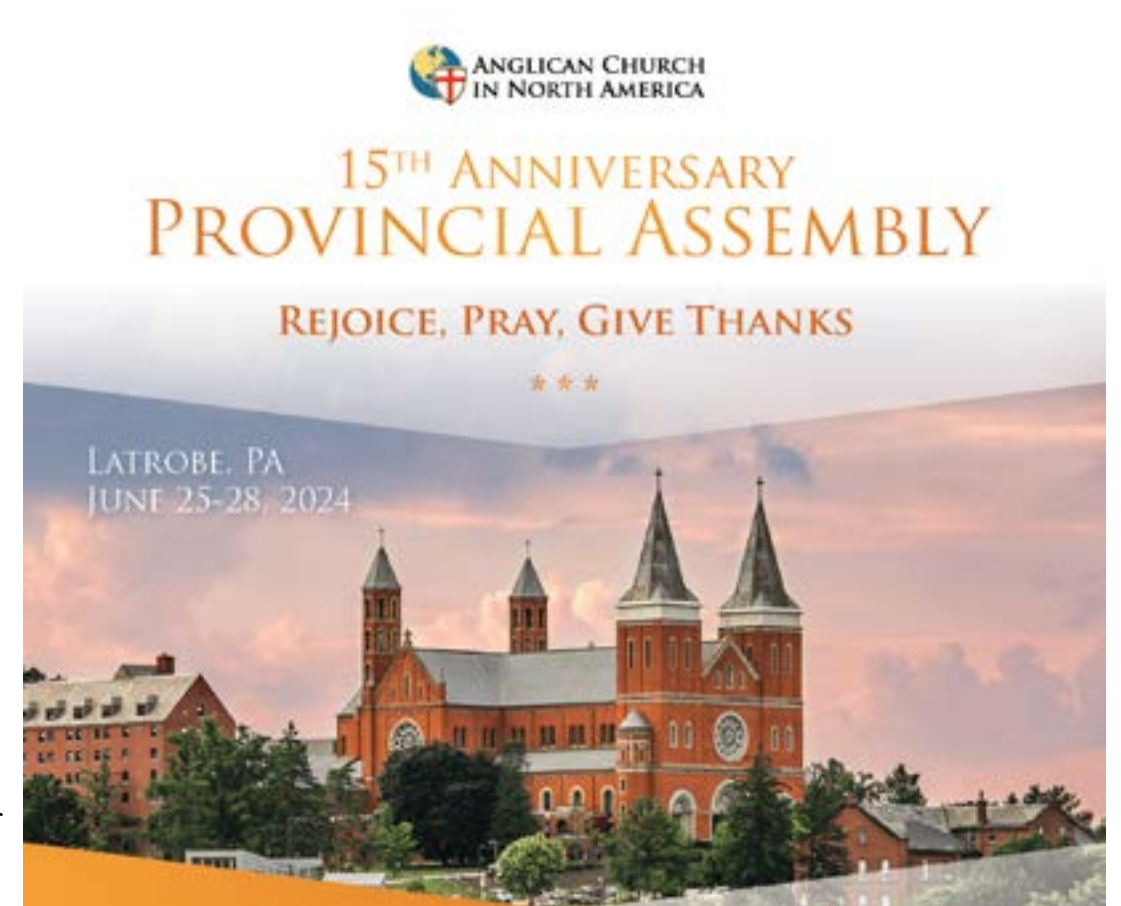

The Anglican Church in North America (ACNA) is having its 15th Anniversary Provincial Assembly on June 25–28 at St. Vincent College in Latrobe, PA. The Provincial Assembly is a three-day open-to-all missions conference, the most important and most representative gathering of the ACNA. Most of the Assembly consists of worship, plenary speakers, and breakout sessions, with a portion of the time devoted to a representative governance session.

We are thrilled to have the following people from All Saints attending this year's Assembly: Olivia Abernathy, Dn. Terry Blakley, Chancellor Jeff Garrety, Fr. Wes Gristy, Greg Jordan, David and Dn. Nan Thomas, Stephanie Traylor, Fr. Kevin Vailes, and Sheila Williamson. Also joining us from Mission Saint James will be Fr. Ben and Janie Williams, and Carrie Whaley. Please keep these participants in your prayers.

This is a significant Provincial Assembly in that the College of Bishops will be choosing a new archbishop to lead the ACNA. Please be in prayer for this decision (see the collect below). And then, starting in July, All Saints will officially be a part of the Anglican Diocese of the South. Also be in prayer for this transition and for our own Bishop Bill Atwood as the International Diocese will officially dissolve.

Almighty God, giver of every good gift: Look graciously on your Church, and so guide the minds of the bishops of our Church who shall choose a new Archbishop for this Province, that we may receive a faithful pastor who will preach the Gospel, care for your people, equip us for ministry, and lead us forth in fulfillment of the Great Commission; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.
