Parents: Looking ahead to chapter 8, I will be asking for people to bring in samples of fungi. This is not a great time of year to find it outside, but you might find some fuzzy stuff in the back of your refrigerator. Maybe some leftovers that were forgotten? Or berries that didn't get eaten fast enough? So, if you have samples for us during chapter 8, please send them into class. I promise I will not judge your housekeeping!

Some paragraphs may include ideas, arguments and textual support but lack the finished character of a body paragraph. The goal is to focus on logical structure and content.
