I delivered to you as of first importance what I also received: that Christ died for our sins in accordance with the Scriptures, that he was buried, that he was raised on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures, and that he appeared to Cephas, then to the twelve. Then he appeared to more than five hundred brothers at one time.

In the Beginning, God

Genesis 1:1-2

Monday

Epistle Project: 2 Corinthians 5:5-11-6:13

There might be a few reasons people think you're crazy. Hopefully at least one of them is because you live in light of the glorious gospel of Jesus Christ. The gospel doesn't just get us into heaven. It changes everything about the way we live, so much so that we might appear to be out of our minds to the average non-believer. 2 Corinthians 5:13-15 gives a phenomenal summary of the way the gospel impacts the way we live today. "For if we are beside ourselves, it is for God; if we are in our right mind, it is for you. For the love of Christ controls us, because we have concluded this: that one has died for all, therefore all have died; and he died for all, that those who live might no longer live for themselves but for him who for their sake died and was raised." May the love of Christ control your life in such a way that you no longer live for yourself, your desires, your aspirations, your goals, or your bucket list. Live for him.

Tuesday

Epistle Project: 2 Corinthians 6:14-7:1

In today's reading, we see a widely quoted but often neglected portion of Scripture. Most informed Christians know enough of their Bible's to be able to warn a friend who is dating an unbeliever to "not be unequally yoked," but how often does that friend listen? In most cases, they do not listen because their desire for what they want outweighs their desire to obey their Lord. The reality is that all of us can fall into this temptation, therefore we must be diligent to remember that God is holy and requires the same of His people. Pray that God would help you, and our church, bring holiness to completion in the fear of Him.

Wednesday

Epistle Project: 2 Corinthians 7:2-16

In these verses we read of the Apostle Paul's joy over the repentant Corinthians. In verse 10 he describes the two types of grief and what they lead to. "For godly grief produces a repentance that leads to salvation without regret, whereas worldly grief produces death." Grief that comes from God is characterized by repentance and the outcome is a reversal of conduct to live for God. Grief that comes from the world, a remorse from losing the approval of the world, leads to divine judgment; it leads to death. Like Paul we are to express much joy over one who is repentant. This is because this grief is a godly grief which led to repentance and a desire to live for God's glory and not their own or the world's.

Thursday

Epistle Project: 2 Corinthians 8:1-5

Paul wrote to the Corinthian church to tell them that the churches in Macedonia "in a severe test of affliction," gave financially to the advance of the gospel. He describes it like this: "their abundance of joy and their extreme poverty have overflowed in a wealth of generosity on their part." Paul then encourages the Corinthians to do the same: "As you excel in everything—in faith, in speech, in knowledge, in all earnestness, and in our love for you—see that you excel in this act of grace also." People who excel in faith and knowledge and zeal ought also to excel in their giving. When a person is truly living — not for this world — but living by faith for the world to come, they will gladly give up earthly treasure in order to advance the name of Jesus and the gospel of his kingdom on this earth. May we hold this worlds treasures with a loose grip, but cling tightly to the Treasure of heaven.

Friday

Epistle Project: 2 Corinthians 8:16-24

Sometimes when we read historical accounts it's easy to forget that there is much more behind the scenes than meets the eye. In our passage for today, Paul highlights three of his fellow workers, but only names one, Titus. It's possible to read the Bible and get the impression that the apostles, especially Paul, were doing all the work to spread the gospel. That thought, however, is completely untrue. Here Paul commends three different men who were recognized for their character, appointed by the churches, and sent out to preach the gospel. Fulfilling the Great Commission is not something that belongs only to church leaders. It is an activity that must involve every Christian.

Saturday

Epistle Project: 2 Corinthians 9:1-5

"And your zeal has stirred up most of them." What Paul is referring to here, was the example that the Corinthians originally had in their zeal to contribute sacrificially to "the ministry for the saints," which was an offering. In their zeal they stirred up other believers to be zealous as well. Pray and ask the Lord for a zeal for Him. A zeal that it would be an example for other believers to have a greater zeal for God and His glory.
