Suggested Sermon Discussion Questions Isaiah 65, “What Will God Do in the End?”

1. Read 65:1, 10. What does it mean to seek after God?

2. In verses 13-15, God’s people are called His servants. What does it mean to serve God? What do you think that means for you today?

3. In verses 2-7, we see a list of sins committed by “religious” people. While we may not engage in these same activities, how can these activities be related to sins we might commit today?

4. The New Heavens and New Earth are clearly going to be a place of joy and gladness. In what ways are we sometimes tempted not to believe this?

5. The Holy Spirit is enticing us to long for the new creation to come. What are some distractions in your life that keep you from longing for the new creation?
