

Isaiah 2-4

Passage Reflection

This page is meant for individuals, small group Bible studies, or one-on-one interactions. Since learning more about the text's meaning in our corporate gathering, I would encourage you to meditate on the passage again so that you might respond to God in praise and obedience. While I have not answered all of the questions below for you, I've included some of my personal meditations that may be of some benefit. May reflection on this passage be used by God to conform you into the image of Christ.

What do I learn about God?

God has planned for His people to be with Him in safety – away from anything that causes harm or trouble. Our God will bring us to the promise land of the New Heavens and New Earth.

Is there anything for which I should repent based on this text?

Is there any way that I am not walking in the light of the Lord?

How might God use this passage to make me look more like Christ?

Christ did not put his trust in created beings, but in His Father.

How does this passage affect evangelism?

As Judah was meant to be a magnet to draw the nations to God, the people of God today are meant to live in such a way that shows off God.

How can I edify the church based on what this passage says?

The call that Isaiah gives to Jacob (Judah) is a good call for me to give to my brothers and sisters. "Come, let us walk in the light of the LORD."
