

Isaiah 6

Passage Reflection

This page is meant for individuals, small group Bible studies, or one-on-one interactions. Since learning more about the text's meaning in our corporate gathering, I would encourage you to meditate on the passage again so that you might respond to God in praise and obedience. While I have not answered all of the questions below for you, I've included some of my personal meditations that may be of some benefit. May reflection on this passage be used by God to conform you into the image of Christ.

What do I learn about God?

When kings come and go, God is the eternal, glorious, and holy King!

Is there anything for which I should repent based on this text?

Have I dismissed or refused to obey God's Word in any way?

How might God use this passage to make me look more like Christ?

Christ, as a prophet like Isaiah, proclaimed God's Word. Christ's followers are also called to proclaim God's Word.

How does this passage affect evangelism?

It's good to remember that sometimes God's Word falls on deaf ears. While heartbreaking, it is still good to announce God's message.

How can I edify the church based on what this passage says?

God is always on His throne. There is never a time when He does not rule over the earth. This is helpful for us to consider in our daily lives. This should put fear to rest. This Sovereign King is for His people.
