

Delighting in God's Word

A Ladies Seminar on Psalm 119
with Linda Peeler

About This Seminar

Session 1: The Mount Everest of the Psalms

Psalm 119 has been called the Mount Everest of the Psalms. This is not just for its length, but also for its depth and scope and beauty. In this talk we'll discuss the glories of Psalm 119 in light of the glories of God's Word as a whole. Why did God spend 176 verses in Psalm 119 discussing His Word and a love for His Word? What was God's intent when he breathed out the entirety of His Word? What should our intent be in studying and knowing Scripture? How do we cultivate a love for His Word? In this talk, we will gain a bigger view of Scripture, and thus a bigger view of God as we begin the study of Psalm 119.

Session 2: Psalm 119 the Four-Strand Braid

Psalm 119 is like a four-strand braid. Each strand of that braid is individual, and each strand is interwoven with the other strands. Taking an in-depth look at the four components that make up Psalm 119 is essential to understanding, not only this psalm, but the whole of life. This talk is very project-intensive. Psalm 119 is amazingly relational, intimately so. In Session 2 we will investigate this relational intimacy in a way that will allow us to connect with Psalm 119 personally, thus connecting with God personally.

Session 3: Getting on Speaking Terms with Psalm 119

We'll take a good, hard look at application in Session 3: Getting on Speaking Terms with Psalm 119. Truly, the inspired Word of God equips us "with everything good that we may do His will." Since this is true, it is critical to know how to interact with Scripture in a way that, by the Holy Spirit, brings godly change. Starting with specific verses in Psalm 119 and branching out to specific verses in other parts of Scripture we'll learn, practically, how we become more like Jesus. This message, in seeking to give practical help toward this end, is extraordinarily hope-filled and gospel saturated.
