

Acts 25:13 – 26:32

Obedient to His Calling

Review

Paul admits guilt

Before Felix

Acts 24:14-15

According to the Way I do serve God

According to the Law

Written in the Prophets

Review

Fulfillment of Law and Prophets

Resurrection of dead

Believed by most Jews

Not Sadducees

Dan. 12:2

Review

Paul appealed to Caesar
God's plan

Acts 23:11; 25:9-11

Killed traveling to Jerusalem

Dependence on God?

Hindered being set free at this time

Acts 25:13-27

King Herod Agrippa II and Bernice

Brother/sister

Consort

Acts 12

Had James put to death

Had Peter imprisoned

Acts 25:13-27

Jews [24] Paul ought not to live
Nothing worthy of death
Carry out appeal to Caesar
Nothing definite to write
No charges to indicate
No legal basis for a trial

Acts 25:13-27

Festus needs Agrippa's help

Investigate

Something to write

Acts 26:1-23

Paul fortunate

Agrippa an expert

Jewish customs, questions

Agrippa Jewish

Acts 26:1-23

Paul's defense

Personal life

Preconversion

Postconversion

Acts 26:1-23

Pre-Conversion

Hate campaign

Murderer

Acts 26:1-23

Conversion

Damascus light

Voice of Jesus

Kick against goads

Holy Spirit, Stephen

Persecuting Risen Messiah

Acts 26:1-23

Commission

Arise, stand [16]

Minister, witness

What he saw that day

Truths of Christian faith

Yet to be known by him

Acts 26:1-23

Commission/Gospel

Open eyes

Darkness to light

Satan to God

Forgiveness and inheritance

Acts 26:1-23

Post-Conversion

Obediently shared gospel

Repent, turn, perform

Jews seized him

Acts 26:1-23

Post-Conversion

Obediently shared gospel

Repent, turn, perform

Jews seized him

Prophets, Moses same message

Acts 26:1-23

Fulfilled Message

Ps. 22; Isa. 53

Messiah suffers

First to rise from dead

Proclaim light to Jews/Gentiles

Acts 26:24-32

Concluding defense

Festus—insane

Words true, rational

Addresses Agrippa

Whole message OT prophets true

Acts 26:24-32

Concluding remarks

Agrippa and others

Paul unworthy of death/imprisonment

Free without appeal to Caesar