

Nathan has been involved at FBC since 2015. He attended Appalachian State University where he studied physics and lab automation. He currently works for Aptiv as an automotive test engineer. Nathan and his wife Hannah enjoy raising their son (Benjamin), reading books, hiking, and talking about the Scriptures.