

Joining God

By Jeff Bedwell on January 5, 2021

READING: Luke 2

How we recognize and respond to the activity of God is crucial in our life and walk with God. Today's reading gives us some great examples to follow.

The shepherds were interruptible. They were willing to alter their routine and do something new and different to be part of what God was doing in the world. Because they did, they had a story to tell that would mark their lives and impact the lives of others.

Simeon and Anna were "righteous and devout" and seeking the Lord through "fasting and prayer." Setting their hearts to seek the Lord in all things put them in a position to recognize, celebrate, and participate in the activity of God as Jesus was brought to the temple.

What a privilege to recognize and participate in the activity of God as He is at work all around us. As we begin a New Year, let us seek the Lord through His Word, prayer and even fasting. Let us be "interruptible" to God so that we too will have a story to tell.

PRAYER: "Father, I thank You that You are still at work all around us today. Help me to adjust my life to be part of what You are doing all around me."

TOMORROW'S READING: Luke 3
