Good Triumphs Over Evil

By Bryan Trotter on November 18, 2022

TODAY'S READING: Revelation 20

What is your favorite movie? This is hard for me to answer because I love so many movies. My typical answer is Ghostbusters, as I am a product of the late 80s and early 90s. Growing up in rural West Texas, we watched A LOT of cowboy and western movies, such as Dances With Wolves, Lonesome Dove, and more starring John Wayne, AKA The Duke. There is something nostalgic about watching these movies. I loved that so many of these movies had the hero defeating the villain(s).

We love seeing movies and hearing stories of good triumphing over evil. It feels right for us to see that justice comes to villains. I have been thinking about this recently. Could it be that we love seeing good triumph over evil in movies because we do not see that as often in real life? We do not need to look far to see that our world is broken. Why does it seem that evil keeps winning in our world? Why do good people suffer while those who choose evil seem to prosper? It is difficult to understand and feels incredibly unjust.

I am filled with immense hope when I read Revelation 20! Evil will be defeated! Satan and his followers will finally be judged for their rebellion. Good will ultimately triumph over evil, and justice will be served. Though evil may seem to prevail, it will be dealt with in the end. This is good news for the believer, as our God will deal with sin, rebellion, and evil. Today, spend some time in prayer celebrating God's power, justice, and authority.

TOMORROW'S READING: Weekend is for catch-up and review.

MONDAY'S READING: Revelation 21
