"The Missing Piece at Christmas"

It's Christmas time; Advent and I love it. I love it for not so obvious reasons, but for reasons that I think are at the heart of the Gospel. Advent means something is coming and Christmas is supposed to be a celebration, but many people don't feel like celebrating. And many in our post-Christian world don't understand what the Christmas celebration is about. The fact is that we celebrate Christmas at the darkest time of the year because that is when we need what Christmas is about, most. We need the Advent of Jesus in our darkest times when we have come to the end of our know-how because HE is the missing piece for the world's missing peace.

THIS is the reason God broke into the world in person; because the peace that is missing is a piece we can't find or make. The peace we need is God coming (Adventing!) to us and saying, "Here, here! I'm here and I am all you need." But we can miss this so easily. Ironically, many come to "the manger" on Christmas Eve but don't take the present home with them. The missing piece to the puzzle of life is laying in the manger for all of us, but to take him home? What does that mean? It means simply a life of discovery; a life of opening a gift we never knew we needed; never knew could be ours; never knew could be our missing peace.

Every one of us is called to the manger to behold Jesus. The question is; "Who will we see?" Do we see the Savior of the world; the one born to die and blot out sin; to bridge the chasm and fill the void that stands between us and the peace of God which passes understanding? This is who Jesus grew up to be, and told us he was and is. This is what his life and death and resurrection attest to. In this season we are invited to see the missing piece in the words of a Carol:

"And our eyes at last shall see Him Thro' His own redeeming love; For that Child so dear and gentle Is our Lord in heav'n above, and He leads His children on To the place where He is gone."

In these days we are invited to see Jesus and we are invited to come to the manger with hearts that need to behold his peace; and we are invited to bring others with us because nothing and no one and nowhere is going to give them what they need like this one solitary life.

I pray that we will all look through these pages for the various opportunities to "come to the manger." I pray we will be singing and pondering carols and their profound words. I pray that the peace of Christmas will come and find the dark places in lives everywhere and that we will be reading scripture and realizing we are shepherds who are to lead people to see the wondrous story of Jesus and His love.

May we rejoice in THIS peace,

Bruce

GATHERING FOR VISION

What's the big idea?

God has interrupted our lives and revealed to us the big picture of creation and redemption and our place in it. We confess Jesus Christ as our Lord and look to him for our meaning and purpose in this life. We live between the first Easter and the second coming of Jesus.

While we know (and are very glad that we know) top-level, “head knowledge” ideas like these, because of our sinful nature, we are always inclined to avoid actually applying them to our lives. We divide our attention between Jesus and other “gods” and settle for less than our amazing inheritance as the church. Romans 12:2 guides and inspires us: “Do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your minds, so that you may discern what is the will of God—what is good and acceptable and perfect.”

We desire to use this time of transition as an opportunity to take hold of the gospel anew for ourselves and our joint calling as First Presbyterian Church in Carson City. We pray that God will grant us wisdom and inspiration as we reflect on our ministry and community so that we may grow in faith and action. We want this for ourselves – but even more for the sake of those whom Christ intends to reach and save through us.

As Christians, we are called, equipped, and sent by God. We want to grow in wisdom and faith in each of those areas. We confess that we are tempted to rest on our laurels, to assume we know what faithfulness looks like, and to choose comfort over purpose. But God’s Word calls us run in such a way that we might win a race (1 Corinthians 9:24-27).

How is it going to work?

We’ll start by hosting three Gatherings for Vision on December 11th, January 8th, and January 22nd at 7pm in the sanctuary. At those meetings, we’ll talk about some big picture ideas about who Christ is, our mission, and our ecclesiology (theology of the church). Our goal is to whet our appetites for a larger journey of vision-casting. After the gathering phase, we’ll form a covenanted Vision Team to continue the process over the next year.

Our Mission Statement calls us to go – making disciples, baptizing, and teaching. We want to develop a strategic plan to carry out those imperatives while placing all our trust in Jesus’ promise to be there with us. We desire to create and carry out a plan that is comprehensive, compassionate, cooperative with the Holy Spirit, measurable, researched, and courageous. The Vision Team that develops this plan will be just as important. The Vision and the Team are two sides of the same coin.

Our church has a great opportunity to use our transition into a new denomination as a time for reflection and growth. We have affirmed our core values: Christ alone, Scripture alone, & Faith alone. Now let’s make a wise and serious investment in our future by developing a vision and strategy for sustainable growth in discipleship and mission over the next five years.

We need everyone to consider joining this effort. There will never be a time when everyone has a ton of free time all at once! But we can’t afford to put this off or to assume someone else will do it for us. We’ll be as flexible and prudent with time as possible during the process. If you want to help our church become more effective in bringing people to Jesus, please pray about this and consider joining us!

Dan

For surely I know the plans I have for you, says the Lord, plans for your welfare and not for harm, to give you a future with hope. Jeremiah 29:11

Christmas Pageant: "It's About LOVE" (King's Kids and Youth)

The Most Wonderful Time of the Year?

Many years ago, when my children were small, I would turn myself inside out every Christmas season baking, making gifts, wrapping, mailing and generally getting crazy to make sure that our family and extended family had a good Christmas. Some years things went well, but more often than not, I ended up getting exhausted and achieved just the opposite of what I was trying to do. In Habakuk 2: 20 it says, "Let all the earth be silent before Him." I've realized as the years go by, that I don't spend nearly enough time in contemplation during the Christmas season and if I am not still, I will miss the opportunity to just be in God's presence because I am too busy. And when I'm too busy, I cannot be in awe of the Gift of Jesus.

There is an old carol that is sung during the Advent/Christmas season that talks about being still in the presence of God. "Let all mortal flesh keep silence, and with fear and trembling stand; ponder nothing earthly minded, for with blessing in his hand Christ our God to earth descendeth, our full homage to demand." The words of Let All Mortal Flesh Keep Silence are associated with St. James the Less (Bishop of Jerusalem), and may have been written as early as 60 AD. and/or with St. Cyril of Jerusalem who was active in the 4th C. AD. Regardless, it was produced for use in the local church. The part we know as this hymn is also called the "Cherubic hymn" as it refers to angels hovering in the third and fourth verses. Gerald Moultrie translated the hymn's text from Greek in 1864. The tune is set to PICARDY, a French carol dating from the 17th C., a popular song of its day. The carol is often used at communion because of its second verse (Lord of lords in human vesture, in the body and the blood, he will give to all the faithful his own self for heavenly food), but paints a much broader view of the Nativity. It speaks, too, of quietly pondering with awe, the gift of God's Son.

A more recent entry into the Advent/Christmas music lexicon is Hope Was Born This Night. In it the lyric reads: "Out upon the snowy fields There's a silent peace that heals And it echoes the grace of our Savior's embrace Because hope was born this night". There is grace, peace and a chance for healing when we slow down enough to reflect. This song, written in 2010 by Ben McDonald and Dave Frey (Sidewalk Prophets), talks about the praise, joy and hope that is born in us when we focus on Christ as the main thing. The song details why we can have these things in the midst of our world. When Christ is known by us and we are known by Him, then the peace that passes understanding will settle into our core.

Or, as another well-know Christmas carol states: "How silently, how silently, the wondrous gift is giv'n! So God imparts to human hearts the blessings of His heav'n. No ear may hear His coming, But in this world of sin, where meek souls will receive Him still the dear Christ enters in." (O Little Town of Bethlehem) Even though the world demands we listen to it, and even though some of the things that we could be doing are good; let's reach for what is best for our souls: a slower tempo, and time for silent reflection on The Best Gift we could possibly receive this year.

Blessed Christmas,

Karen

We would like to remind you that if you are giving in December and would like your donation to be credited to calendar year 2014, your gift must be in the church offering by the morning of Sunday, December 28, 2014, or postmarked by December 31, 2014.

ANNUAL REPORT INFORMATION DUE

Do you lead a ministry group or help spend the church's money? In preparation for the Annual Report, church officers, group leaders, staff and other members of the congregation that serve at First Presbyterian Church will need to submit their year-end report. In order to allow sufficient time to assemble the Annual Report, we ask that your submission be received by Wednesday, December 31. Please email your report to dawn@fpccarsoncity.org. You may also deliver your information via a flash drive.

ATTENTION TRAVELERS AND ADDRESS MOVERS

Did you know that each month we mail you our Trumpet to keep you informed about the activities of the church? However when you leave the area for a period of time the Post Offices returns your newsletter to the church and we are required to pay for its return. At that time we take you off the mailing list until we are notified of your return. That notification sometimes doesn't happen and you are then missing out on the church news.

Please notify us before you depart as a "snowbird" or just for a few weeks or months away so that we can either forward your Trumpet to the new address or stop it for the time that you are away.

We would appreciate your help with this as you make your travel plans any time throughout the year. If you are moving it is also important to call the office or e-mail your change of address to char@fpccarsoncity.org.
