From the Pastor's Workshop

"Grace Works"

May 16 and 17 we will be participating with churches from all around Carson City in our annual "GraceWorks" mission. We will be joining with Christians to tell the people of Carson City that Jesus loves them and wants to have an eternal relationship with them. How? The way Jesus did; meeting people where they are and showing genuine love by being willing to show compassion in very practical ways. NOW is the time to sign up. You can do this here at church or by going on line to: www.graceworks-2015.eventbrite.com. There is something that virtually all of us can do including knowing about a particular project and praying for it on site or in your home. Don't miss this great opportunity.

Originally GraceWorks was called, "The Church has left the building" because it happened only on Sunday and we went out to serve as our form of worship. And it still is a matter of the church leaving the building, but this year the event will extend to both Saturday and Sunday. We will have worship at 10 AM on Sunday for ONE SERVICE, but there will still be time for us to serve before and after worship on Sunday.

Here is something I want us all to be praying and thinking about: as we serve on both or either day, ask someone we encounter to come and worship with us. Ask if they have a church home and invite them to come share ours if they don't have one. This is a great opportunity to get to know people and for people in Carson City to learn that Jesus loves them in very practical ways that extend into forever.

I know the world in which we live can seem pretty dark at times, but the gift God has given us in Jesus Christ is in Jesus' words when he said, "In the world you face persecution. But take courage; I have conquered the world!" Here is the good news: because we belong to Jesus, NOTHING is going to stop what he wants to do through us. That's why we always say, "We go nowhere by accident". When our eyes are open to how Jesus wants to use us and speak through us, there is no end to how people will hear the Gospel.

I believe that as a result of GraceWorks someone will walk up to you in heaven and say, "I'm here because of what Jesus did and I wouldn't have known about it except you told me." And we are likely to say, "Really, how?" And the answer will be, "You remember that day in Carson City when you were helping out on that GraceWorks project and we met and you invited me to your church? Well I didn't think a lot about it, but you were so kind, it stuck with me and God kept nudging me and finally I went to church after I had moved away a couple years later and I met Jesus. But it wouldn't have happened unless you had planted that seed. I am so glad you did. Thank you."

This will really happen as we sign up and show up and let God work through us. I see you doing this all the time as new people come through the door each week and I thank God for your faithfulness. What a gift it is to be the body of Christ. May we never forget his gift Jesus died and rose again to give us and may we say "thank you" as we let God continue to use us for his glory in GraceWorks and every day.

Gratefully yours in Jesus' service,

Bruce

THINKING LIKE A MISSIONARY

Imagine that you are going to move to a foreign country to be a missionary for Jesus. Your goal is to go and make disciples, baptizing them in the name of the Father, Son, and Spirit, and teach them to obey all Christ's commands. How do you think you will be able to share your faith with others? How would you spend your time? What kinds of gifts and talents has God given to you in order to be effective? What would you pray about each day?

Let's get a bit more specific about our hypothetical mission field. Take some time to think through these numbers and imagine the lives of people you would meet in this foreign country. The average age of the community where you are going to be a missionary is 40.5. About half the adult population has had some college education. 31% of people live in single person households (considerably higher than the regional average; 34% two-person, 14% three-person). 90% of people live above the poverty level but very few people are wealthy. 54% of people ages 16 and older are employed, 9% unemployed, and 37% are not in the labor force.

Christian missionaries have been present in this community for a long time, but religious commitments are mostly skin deep and religious involvement is in rapid decline. 65% of the people there agree with the statement "God is love and invites the world into a loving relationship," but only 18% think it is important to engage in any kind of formal religious activity on a weekly basis and less than a third have any involvement at all. Most people are familiar with who Jesus was, but most people also believe that believing in Jesus doesn't require participation in a church.

How would you be a successful missionary in this community? Almost everyone there has heard of Jesus, yet only a small minority are interested in any kind of communal Christian activity. We know that a huge gulf exists between having a vague understanding of the gospel and living as a disciple of Jesus. It's almost as if most people in this community have been inoculated against the gospel by watered-down versions of the real thing. As G. K. Chesterton wrote (and Bruce has quoted): "The Christian ideal has not been tried and found wanting; it has been found difficult and left untried."

What would it take for people in this foreign land to come to know the real Jesus? How could you live your life in a way that made the real Jesus obvious and welcoming to the people around you? Remember, around 80% of the people there are not interested in attending a weekly worship service. Where are you going to spend time with these nonbelievers in order to have the opportunity to share the gospel with them?

Got any ideas where this foreign land might be? I'm sure you've figured it out. All these statistics describe our very own Carson City (2014, Sources: US Census Bureau, Synergos Technologies Inc., Experian, MissionInsite). Those non-Christians are our neighbors and friends. We are the missionaries that God has chosen to send to share the good news of his mercy and love.

I hope that thinking like a missionary has stretched your imagination. It's one thing to accept Jesus' call to "take up our cross daily," and it's another to live it out. We're evangelicals who love talking about the gospel, but do we love talking about the gospel with people who haven't heard it yet? In Acts 1:8, Jesus says, "you will receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you; and you will be my witnesses in Jerusalem, in all Judea and Samaria, and to the ends of the earth." We have received the Holy Spirit, and our corner of the earth is Carson City. How are we going to be his Witnesses?

Leslie and I would like to thank you all for all your prayers and generous gifts for the birth of our daughter, Mabel Jane!

After the Resurrection, What Next?

When he had led them out to the vicinity of Bethany, he lifted up his hands and blessed them. While he was blessing them, he left them and was taken up into heaven. Then they worshiped him and returned to Jerusalem with great joy. And they stayed continually at the temple, praising God. Luke 24: 50-53 (NIV)

After his suffering, he presented himself to them and gave many convincing proofs that he was alive. He appeared to them over a period of forty days and spoke about the kingdom of God. Act 1: 3 (NIV)

As I was looking at music for use in services in the month of May, I ran across an old hymn called, "Hail the Day That Sees Him Rise", (#232 in our hymnal). The hymn was penned by Charles Wesley and first published in 1742 in his Hymns and Sacred Poems. This discovery led me to begin thinking about the main events of Jesus' life. Upon further investigation, I find that not much is said in our faith tradition about the Ascension of Jesus to heaven. We have the Advent, Christmas, Ministry, Death, descent into Hell, and Resurrection of our Lord, but then we seem to skip directly to Pentecost. The Ascension of Jesus occurs ten days before Pentecost. The Ascension is unlike the other "disappearances" from the disciples presence in that it is key to the coming of the Holy Spirit on Pentecost. Without acknowledging it, there is a piece missing to the seeming parabolic pattern of the Creation to New Jerusalem narrative of the Bible.

I would love to have been a fly on the wall when His disciples first realized that the risen Lord was with them physically following His Resurrection! What do you think that was like? The apostles were having a difficult time reconciling Jesus' reappearance with what they knew to be reality -- that Jesus had been crucified and buried in a tomb. Then He appeared suddenly in their midst while they are walking, or eating or going about their daily work (think fishing). If you think we wouldn't be affected by such an appearance, put yourself in the boat with Peter when you've fished all night and brought in nothing and then a stranger on the shore asks you to fish on the other side of the boat and voila! - more fish than you can handle.

For 40 days Jesus dropped in periodically on the disciples and He finally led them up to the Mount of Olives where he gave these instructions, "I am going to send you what my Father has promised; but stay in the city until you have been clothed with power from on high." (Luke 24: 49, NIV). It was necessary for Jesus to leave in order for the Holy Spirit to arrive.

See, He lifts His hands above! Alleluia! See, He shows the prints of love! Alleluia!

Hark! His gracious lips bestow, Alleluia! Blessings on His church below. Alleluia!

We Will Glorify, a more contemporary song by Twila Paris talks about the revealing of God and His reign. It speaks of Jesus as the King of kings and the Lamb. It dedicates worship to the Lord of Lords. Jesus reigns today in heaven and continues His ministry in heaven on our behalf, interceding for us before the Father. Now that we've received the Holy Spirit following His Ascension, the Holy Spirit can reign in our hearts forever. The Holy Spirit, which was promised to the disciples has made possible that you and I can follow Him today. It caused the disciples to spread the Gospel to the ends of the earth.

Joyfully,

Karen

NEW NAME FOR A FAITHFUL GROUP

The Friday Morning Men's Fellowship that meets for breakfast and Bible study at 6:30 a.m. in the fellowship hall is now going to be known at the Men's Berean Bible Study. The name is taken from Acts 17:11 that says, "...they welcomed the message very eagerly and examined the scriptures every day to see whether these things were so." This group does just this; looking to apply the truth of scripture every day to everyday situations. You are encouraged to come join them for great fellowship, food by Chef Donald, and Bible study.

TUESDAY WOMEN STUDIES

Our two Tuesday women study groups have recently started on new books. We would like to extend an invitation to anyone who would like to join us on growing your faith through our studies and fellowship with other ladies. Both groups meet at 6:30 a.m. on Tuesday. BELIZE 2015

We were blessed the month of March to travel to the village of Seine Bight on the peninsula of Belize. The dental team saw most of the children from the Primary School, grades Standard 2 to Standard 6 this year. God also opened up the scheduling so that we were able to see many adults, which was a total blessing and a different aspect of the ministry in reaching out to the Village. The clinic was open from 8:00 in the morning to sometimes almost 6:00 in the evening.

Our construction team renovated Mr. Martin's house this year. Mr. Martin is the blind man who goes to the church we were working with. Rob and Jenny Scanland, who arrived a week early to get things ready for the team coming, led this part of the ministry. They used what was still good on the house but replaced many boards, put in a more solid structure under the house, a new roof, a floor and covered it with plysum (to help from spills rotting the floor), a new door, new shutter windows, painted inside and out, made the steps and banister stronger. Mr. Martin stayed with his niece Tiffany who lives in front of his house while the team worked on his house. They were also able to minister to her not only by their lives shining for Jesus but did some repairs on her house as well. They put in a new window and a door that was on the seaside that had been nailed shut since hurricane Iris in 2001. They patched a few holes in her roof and helped paint her house. They worked tirelessly and with great joy in their hearts. Mr. Martin and Tiffany are very grateful for the team and thank the Lord for his blessings of provision in their lives.

One of our highlights of our ministry was a man name Ernesto. He was watching them build and minister in the village. On Thursday he came up to Renee the team leader and said he had been watching these people with red shirts and knew they had what he needed. He wanted to change his life and get right with God. Renee asked him if he would like to talk with Pastor Jim and he said yes. He showed up Friday morning at 9:00 AM and repented of his sins and gave his life to Jesus. We wondered if it were real and prayed he would come to church on Sunday. He did! Praise God. Please pray he will walk with Jesus and get to know him so deeply that he will impact his village.
