Stewardship in Times of Transition

By Angela Denker

April 25, 2018 Leading Ideas

Transitions are hard. Change is hard. Transitions are often especially hard in the church. Not long ago, I left a beloved call as my family and I followed my husband's call to a new job in a different state, closer to our families. As my final sermon and Sunday morning approached, I found myself thinking about stewardship — especially at this time of transition in the church.

In times of transition, mission and vision can become unclear, especially if they rely too much on individual personalities. If a church's mission is tied to a particular pastor, the mission flounders when the pastor leaves.

Clarity of vision and mission

Helping people to grow in their giving relies upon a clear sense of vision and mission. Just as Jesus encouraged the disciples with a clear task at the Great Commission, we as modern-day disciples and church leaders often attempt to encourage giving by reminding people of our mission.

In times of transition, mission and vision can become unclear, especially if they rely too much on individual personalities or business-oriented strategic plans. If a church's mission is tied to a particular pastor, the mission flounders when the pastor leaves. If people give because of their allegiance to a particular ministry or a particular person, giving is rooted in personality rather than faith in Jesus.

As pastors come and go, ministries change, attendance rises and falls. So how do we sustain stewardship and giving in times of transition in the church?

Stewardship rooted in faith

The key is rooting stewardship in faith in Jesus and in God's mission, rather than the church or a pastor's individualized mission. To make this work, people must see the local church as an arm of God's larger mission in the world. Leaders must connect giving through regular offering, or "general fund," to the life-saving and redeeming work of Jesus Christ. We must explain that while the general offering may pay the electric bill, the electricity at church enables us to hold weekly worship, or host families experiencing homelessness overnight.

The church's mission is bigger than one individual

We must remember to make the church's mission independent of ourselves as individuals, making it easy to hand off to the next leaders of the church. We must enable ourselves and others to see multiple ways of achieving that mission, regardless of specific leaders or programs.

The heart of stewardship lies in this truth: none of us is individually the mission. Jesus is the mission of the church. We each are merely tools God uses to achieve that mission, and one of our most important tasks is to know how to hand off the mission to the next leader.

In times of transition, to enable steady giving and stewardship in the church, leaders must focus on the future. I am reminded of this verse: "For surely I know the plans I have for you, says the LORD, plans for your welfare and not for harm, to give you a future with hope," (Jeremiah 29:11).

Hope in the future

Notice that the Lord says plans not a plan. God will use many people and many tactics to complete the mission of the church: to save lives and set people free through the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Many leaders will be a part of that mission. They all rely on those who come before and after.

What we all must cling to in times of transition is God's incredible promise: a future with hope. It is that future to which leaders must point again and again, reminding people of God's ongoing mission even in the midst of change and transition at the local church.

STEWARDSHIP 2024

Our theme for the 2024 stewardship campaign is
"A Future and A Hope"

For I know the plans I have
for you,
declares the LORD,
plans for welfare
and not for evil,
to give you a future
and a hope.
Jeremiah 29:11

Our theme for the 2024 stewardship campaign is "A Future and A Hope." Jeremiah 29:11-14 says, "For I know the plans I have for you, declares the LORD, plans for welfare and not for evil, to give you a future and a hope. Then you will call upon me and come and pray to me, and I will hear you. You will seek me and find me when you seek me with all your heart. I will be found by you, declares the LORD."

The year 2023 has brought unexpected challenges to our body. We should never think that what has happened is outside of God's control. God says he has a Future for us, His church. As we proceed to find the pastor He is preparing for us, let us not lose Hope.

Our giving this year through August is about Hope. God commands us to give. Often, we think of giving as financial, but we are to give of ALL that God has given us. That includes our talents, time, knowledge, abilities, prayer time, etc. As you fill out your pledge card, prayerfully consider all the ways you can support the growth of God's church.

As our elders prepare for the 2024 budget, your pledges give us an idea of what funds we have for spreading the good news of Jesus Christ. There will be a need for additional funds to hire a new pastor in 2024.

Pledge cards will be mailed to you on October 23rd and will also be available in the pews and Narthex on the 29th. Stewardship Dedication Sunday will occur in mid-November.

Remember that God has "A Future and a Hope" for us and His church at First Presbyterian Carson City.

The Role of Music During Worship Service

The role of music is to serve the larger purposes of worship. Music in worship can help the congregation to communicate and share the word of God. Music is a wonderful and powerful means of communication and expression. Employed theologically and artfully, worship music helps us focus on God.

“It is good to praise the Lord and make music to your name, O Most High, proclaiming your love in the morning and your faithfulness at night, to the music of the ten stringed lyre [guitar] and the melody of the harp [keyboard].” Psalm 92:1-3.

It is good to Praise the Lord and make music to your name, O Most High.

Psalm 92:1

Music encourages the congregation when they sing the truths of God. When the church gathers for worship the congregation engages with God through singing, clapping, bowing, lifting hands, and other biblical actions, often led by music. Other worship actions are accompanied with music in the background. Melody and harmony bring us together in a unique way. Music also unites us physically when we clap together in rhythm.

Music exposes the congregation to the Gospel and it has a message to tell! The songs must declare the truth of the Word of God, especially the good news of the Gospel. Psalm 40:3 says, “And he hath put a new song in my mouth, even praise unto our God: many shall see it and fear, and shall trust in the Lord.”

“Let the message of Christ dwell among you richly as you teach and admonish one another with all wisdom through psalms, hymns, and songs from the Spirit, singing to God with gratitude in you hearts.” Colossians 3:16

Music encourages others to worship the Lord Jesus Christ. Worship is focused adoration and devotion to God. It requires the engagement of the mind and the heart to the Lord at the exclusion of all else. Singing can certainly lead us into worship. Consider 2 Kings 3:14-15: It does not appear that Elisha himself was a musician, but he knew the value and importance of music! The text shows that he had been called into a mess and appears irritated. The minstrel played music that helped him! Good music can help seal off distractions, and get you prepared in mind and spirit to receive from the Lord. After researching the roles of music within our church and significance it plays, we certainly have great reason for music in our church services!

Blessings,
Stewart

IT'S TIME FOR ANOTHER FELLOWSHIP DINNER!

Are you interested in getting to know others in our church family? Sign up NOW to attend a Fellowship Dinner on October 6th or 7th. These dinners are small gatherings in individual homes to share fellowship, food, and fun. These dinners usually have 6-8 people with the host providing a main dish and guests bringing a dish to share. Sign-ups are happening now during Coffee Hour so see Sandy Ehresman or Diane Young right away if you haven't yet signed up.

If you can't make it this time, the next Dinners will be December 8 & 9—details for those dinners will be coming soon!

Mark your calendars for the next DEACON SUNDAY, following worship on OCTOBER 8 in the Family Life Center! If you don't already know your Deacon, this is a great time to find out who they are and say, "Hi!" There will be LOTS of snacks, so plan to eat!!

Deacons want to remind those who are unable to come to church that you can request that Communion be brought to your home. Contact your deacon or the office.

Operation Christmas Child boxes are ready for pick up in the Narthex and in the office, If you haven't picked up a gift list they are also available. If you have any questions, see Lynne Weaver.

Boxes are due back by Nov. 12.

If you are interested in volunteering at the thrift store, please call the store at 775-841-7081 and ask to speak to the manager or you may drop by the store at your convenience. Thank you for all of your continued support to our programs!!

Life Choices Annual Gala Report

What an inspirational, fun evening we had on September 15th at the Life Choices 40th Anniversary Gala Banquet at the Atlantis in Reno. We were privileged to watch a sonogram of a 16-week-old baby and hear the story of how prayers helped the mother choose life. Kirk Cameron, our feature speaker, inspired us with his story of becoming a Christian, marrying and then he and his wife adopting 4 children before she got pregnant. His son shared his story of finding his birth mother and thanking her for choosing life. Thank you for your ongoing pledges and gifts to FPC so your mission committee can continue to support Christ-centered missions like Life Choices in your name. Thank you to the 14 people who bought tickets for the Gala and were able to attend. God is Good! Charlene Rodman, Life Choices Ambassador
