

The Gospel to Mormons Training Workshop
with Joseph Haller
August 21st – 9am–2pm

- Purpose: To learn to lovingly engage members of the LDS community in concise & effective gospel conversations.
- It's easy to get hung up on issues that don't advance a gospel conversation, and conversations with Mormons can be discouraging because they seem to go nowhere – and, are we really just the same as them just with a few slight differences? Well, to help us learn to better reach the LDS in our community, we've asked Joseph Haller (one of our missionaries doing LDS missions in Utah, with “Utah Partnerships for Christ”) to come help us learn how to ask better questions, and get a grip on the most important doctrines and Bible passages to focus on.
- Saturday, August 21st – 9am–2pm with Pizza lunch provided
- The morning sessions will be a survey of theology and history of Mormonism, and helps for Christians as they navigate important topics and passages for engaging LDS members.
- Our pizza lunch session will include Q/A time with Joseph Haller and Aaron Shafovaloff (Aaron is a believer and Research Associate with “Mormon Research Ministry” in Draper, Utah)
- After lunch, we will go with Joseph Haller and Pastor Corey Millican to a local park where we will put our learning and theology into practice as we meet up with local “Mormon missionaries” to ask them questions surrounding what we've learned. Just like when a LDS person knocks at your door, we will invite a couple “Mormon missionaries” to engage in gospel conversations with us in a less formal, but strategic setting. We will see that God's Word really has the answers to the questions that Mormonism can't answer about salvation, and eternal life, and the Triune God who has revealed Himself in His Word. This will be an encouraging and humbling time as we learn to ask good questions, and make Him known!
- We will then have a time to debrief and pray for our church, and for the hearts of those in the LDS community that the Lord is calling us to reach with the gospel of grace.
- We'll also hear information over the weekend about a mission trip possibility for summer 2022 in Utah reaching LDS people with the gospel, alongside Joseph Haller and Utah Partnerships for Christ.
