Leave your kindred (cf. Luke 14:26):

- Moral values, opinion of others, traditions of men, family pressures, employer attitudes;

Leave your father's house (cf. Mark 7:20-23):

- Partial fulfillment;
- Final fulfillment in the last days;

Area Occupied by Israel after the Conquest (Joshua 12-13)

Cycle of Judges

Principle 1

1. God's chosen people were far from perfect.

Applications:

- How has God used your less-than-perfect history for His glory?
- What can God accomplish through imperfect you?

Omissions from Chronicles

- Samuel's part in choosing kings;
- Nearly all Saul's reign;
- David's struggles with Saul, 7-year reign in Hebron, his many wives, Absalom's rebellion, and the episode with Bathsheba;
- Solomon's many wives, bringing idols into palace, faulty relationship with God, his failure to remove the high places/pagan temples;
- The kings of the Northern kingdom;
- Bad kings of the South are hardly mentioned;

Kings: Family Tree

Common Threads in Chronicles

- Only concerned with the royal line of David;
- Hence, only the Southern Kingdom in focus;
- Not “idolizing” royalty, he is “idealizing” royalty;
- Concentrates on the ark and temple;
- “Good” kings promoted the ark and temple;
- Emphasis on 8 good kings, largely ignores 12 bad kings;
- Good kings: Asa, Jehoshaphat, Joash, Hezekiah, Josiah (all opposed idolatry);
- Bad kings practiced idolatry (condemned by the prophets);

Principle 3

1. God's chosen people were far from perfect.
2. God uses good and bad leaders to fulfill His purposes.
3. God uses regular people to carry His message.

Applications:

- What truth is God asking you to share with others?
- How could God be using your daily routine to reach the lost?

Main Truth:

Israel's story matters to believers today.

Reading for Next Week (25-Sep-22)

1 Kings 11–14;

2 Chronicles 10–12

Discussion

- What excites or intimidates you about studying the Old Testament?
- How do you see the Old Testament fulfilled in the New Testament?
- How might Israel's story of successes and failures apply to life in today's world (hint: 1 Corinthians 10:1-13)?
- How does knowing that God has been faithful to keep His promises throughout history encourage you or comfort you in what you are experiencing today?
- What are some practical ways you can remind yourself and those around you this week about God's faithfulness?
- How does God use times of transition to accomplish His purposes? How has He done this in your life?
