

Wednesday Night Community Groups

Join us from 6:45p-8p

Option One: Study of 1 Peter

The focus of this small group will be to draw near to God through the study of scripture & practice of Christian disciplines. As God is revealed & is placed foremost in the believer's life, believers naturally respond in worship through such things as brotherly love, evangelism, & practicing holiness. It is the desire that this group will help believers live out James 4:8 "Draw near to God, and He will draw near to you."

During sessions, time will be spent in the following:

- Corporate Prayer
- Promoting/Encouraging Scripture Memorization
- Bible Study/Exegesis of Scripture
- Group Discussion/Application in Christian Life

Our study will begin with the book of 1 Peter. Hope to see you there. Please contact Tom Hein (tomhein318@gmail.com) with any questions.

Option Two: Exploring Christianity

The focus of this small group will be for training individuals to lead others who are curious about Jesus or for those who are struggling with doubts about the Christian faith. We will have open conversations about Jesus & Christianity in a non-judgmental environment.

During sessions, time will be spent in the following:

- Corporate prayer
- Learn how to share your faith
- Learn how to answer questions from non-believers
- Corporate question & answer time
- Opportunities to put it all into real practice

Our study will begin with the book of John.

Please contact Mike Brinson (pastor@lifepointbc.com) with any questions.

LOVE God. LIVE in Community. LEAD from Strengths.

Today we continue our teaching series examining the life of Joseph. Examining Joseph's life in the Bible is vital, as it serves as a powerful reminder of God's sovereignty, illustrating His capacity to transform any hardship & even betrayal into good, ultimately resulting in forgiveness, reconciliation, & the preservation of His people, while offering us profound insights into faith, integrity, & trusting in God's plan even in the midst of adversity.

Tithes & Offerings

Have you asked God about your giving lately?

This is a question we don't think to ask often. We ask God about lots of things but not giving.

- We ask God for strength when we're feeling weak.
- We ask Him for wisdom when we have to make difficult decisions.
- We ask Him for healing & comfort for those who are sick and hurting.
- We often ask God to grow us & make us more like Christ in every way.

But do we think to ask God about our generosity?

We should because giving is one way that God grows us to be more like Himself. So... When was the last time that you honestly assessed your personal generosity?

- Is your generosity consistent with what God invites us into in His Word?
- Are you currently responding to how God wants to challenge you & grow your faith?
- Or is your generosity in "set it & forget it" mode?

Many of us chose a level of giving years ago, & that's where we've been since then. We seldom think of it because we're comfortable. But God does not want our giving to be on "Autopilot" in any area of our faith. Rather a living & active part of our faith.

In the coming weeks we're going to explore several Scriptures that God just might use to speak to you about your generosity. God wants to do something THROUGH you. But He also wants to do something IN you.

We hope you share our sense of anticipation for how He will speak to us in the weeks ahead. Let's pray that God makes us into a more generous church as we ask what He wants us to do, & then respond to Him.
