Escaping Unbelief

This morning as I was reading through Hebrews 3, I was struck by the author's comments in verses 12-14. Here is the passage: "Take care, brothers, lest there be in any of you an evil, unbelieving heart, leading you to fall away from the living God. But exhort one another every day, as long as it is called 'today,' that none of you may be hardened by the deceitfulness of sin. For we have come to share in Christ, if indeed we hold our original confidence firm to the end." This is written to a group of Christians who were facing severe persecution. Many had been ostracized from their community, suffered loss of personal possessions, and were publicly humiliated (see Heb. 10:32-36). The reason they were suffering was because of their faith in Jesus Christ and commitment to live in a manner pleasing to their Lord. If they denied the faith, then their troubles would go away.

We face a similar struggle. We live in a world that is steadily pulling us away from Christ. The devil is very effective in his relentless attack on our faith. He is happy for us to maintain a degree of morality. He is happy for us to appear upright and respectable. He is even happy for us to be members of good churches. Yet in the midst of all our good appearances, the devil continues to loosen our hold on Jesus and to harden our hearts in unbelief. How does he do this?

The erosion of true community

One of God's remedies to unbelief is genuine Christian community. We are told to exhort or encourage one another every day so that our hearts will not be hardened in unbelief. If you look at American society in general and American church culture in particular, one of the great weaknesses is the erosion of community. Very few of us really know our neighbors. Many of us have little meaningful contact with fellow church members. We share a brief greeting and ask the customary questions like "How is the family?" and "How are things at work?" This lack of community is dangerous. It exposes us to a hardening of our hearts.

This is an area in which we at MSPC need to grow. The elders have been discussing ways we can better facilitate genuine Christian community. We need to see the importance of it and cultivate a desire for it. We were not made to embark on the Christian journey alone. We are part of a body, and we depend on one another as we journey through this life. We are called to "encourage one another and build one another up" (1 Thess. 5:11), "to speak truth to one another" (Eph. 4:25), "to consider how to stir up one another to love and good works" (Heb. 10:24), "to confess your sins to one another" (James 5:16), and "to admonish the idle, encourage the fainthearted, help the weak" (1 Thess. 5:14).

These things take place as we commit to living life together as God's children. Christian community is one of God's remedies to unbelief.

Here are two diagnostic questions to ask yourself. Do I see my relationships at church as vital to my Christian walk, or do I prefer to journey alone? Am I contributing to the spiritual health of the church by making an effort to be part of the community, or is church not a real priority?

The erosion of faith-strengthening spiritual disciplines

A second remedy to unbelief is a commitment to the tools God has given the church to sustain and build faith. Think for a moment about a professional athlete. In order to maintain a high level of play, an athlete must lift weights, eat healthy foods, and study the game. If these things are neglected, the athlete will soon be out of a very well-paying job. Jesus Christ also gives his people tools to strengthen and build faith. What are these tools? In our circles they are often referred to as the "means of grace." The Word of God, prayer, and the sacraments are designed to strengthen and mature our faith. In Ephesians 4:9-16, Paul speaks of certain gifts Jesus gave to the church. The gifts are primarily teachers of the word of God and shepherds of the people of God. We refer to these men as ministers and elders. God gives spiritual leaders to the church for the purpose of "equipping," "maturing," and "protecting" the people of God. During a public church service on Sunday, God uses the reading, preaching, praying and participation in the sacraments to feed, nourish, and grow our faith.

Alongside the public gifts that Jesus gives the church through its spiritual leaders, he also expects us to read our bibles and pray individually and with our families. If we neglect these duties, we make ourselves vulnerable to unbelief. In addition, we deprive our brothers and sisters in Christ of the certain spiritual benefits. Consider Paul's statement in Colossians 3:16, "Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly, teaching and admonishing one another in all wisdom..." By neglecting the spiritual discipline of bible study, we limit the spiritual blessings we bring to others in our church community. God has given us his word, and he has called us to seek his face in prayer as a second and powerful remedy against unbelief.

Here are two more questions to ask yourself. Have you ever thought about Sunday worship as a tool used by God to make your faith stronger? Has the hectic pace of your life led to a neglect in personal and family bible reading and prayer?

We live in a world that is corrosive to our faith. I hope we learn to see the importance of our church community as a powerful, God given remedy to unbelief.

HAPPY HEARTS

Valentine's Day is one of our favorite holidays. It is a time to love and be loved. It should be a time of knowing that the greatest love ever shown or expressed is seen in the life, death, and resurrection of our Savior, Jesus Christ. God's only Son given for our salvation. There is no greater love in that He loved us while we were yet lost in our sin. We were unlovely and unloving, yet God loved us and gave His Son for us. How can we even contemplate love for one another without first considering that any love we can know or experience comes from our Father? Valentine's is a day for lovers to express their love to each other and a time for sending Valentines. But I am suggesting that no true love exists apart from the love of the Father. We love only as we know His love for us, just as we forgive only because we know of His forgiveness of our sins.

The fellowship hall was decorated with balloons, flowers, lots of red and pink fabric, a few stuffed animals, candy hearts, chocolate heart shaped candy, and valentines. Kitty Brewer lovingly shared her talents and made everything look pretty. I so enjoyed having her participate in our preparation for the Happy Hearts Valentine's Day party. She makes such a wonderful difference. We love each other and love working together in Main Street Presbyterian Church. Another precious sister in Christ offered her capable assistance. Rhonda White made and decorated cupcakes for our dessert. They were just as delicious as they were beautiful. It was Rhonda's love that prompted her to assume the responsibility of our dessert. She placed the cupcakes on various cake stands and plates in the center of the main table. They completed the appropriate decorations. Both Kitty and Rhonda wanted to express their love to the many who call themselves Happy Hearts and we want them to know how much we appreciated their time, efforts, and love.

Others who expressed their love are members of Happy Hearts who often volunteer to prepare food and cleanup after the meal. Frances Laws and Jean Yelverton prepared strawberry congealed salads topped with sour cream continuing the red and white color scheme. The entree was Chicken Divan baked on top of a bed of mixed wild rice and topped with grated cheese and Townhouse crackers soaked in melted butter. Rolls accompanied the meal. Nell Fleming provided her delicious mint tea. Coffee and water were also available. And Rhonda's yummy cupcakes with ice cream provided the perfect finish. We were pleased to have Rhonda join us for the day. After stuffing ourselves, Ben Chilcutt, Pat Wallace, Johnice Shumaker, Clara Peterson, and Diann Carter graciously washed the dishes and returned them to their proper places. All of us appreciate the efforts of our group's members who so willingly help to make it happen.

You must be wondering if we had a program? Yes, we did! And it was good! For the first time in the history of Happy Hearts, we invited the same performer who presented our January program to return in February and present a second, but different program. Our friend Presley Hutchins, who impersonated Robert E. Lee in January, returned to sing love songs for our Valentine's program. He sang the song first and then asked us to join him in singing the same song. We all sang "Let me call you Sweetheart", "Good Night Sweetheart", "I can't give you Anything but Love", "Mona Lisa", and "Why do I love you?". Presley has a wonderful voice. He is a very interesting and outgoing person. Did you see an article he had written to our local Voice of the People? He is a Texan by birth and received a music and a theology degree from SMU.

Presley and his wife, Alexa, live in Brooksville. They brought a friend, Margaret Gray, along with them. I had invited Ida Belle Ables who told me about Presley's talents. I also was pleased to have Peggy Beaty join us for the first time. It is fun to have visitors join our regular attenders. It was indeed a fine day to share our love with each other.

Our March meeting will be held on Wednesday, March 23, at 10:30. The Lovegren family will be joining us, sharing their story, and performing for us. It will be one of those meetings you don't want to miss. Bring a friend with you. I look forward to seeing you there, and oh yes, I do love each and every one of you!

Women in the Church

The March meeting was held on Tuesday, March 1st. Our hostesses, Lynda Meharg and Robin Tait, served spinach salad and vegetable chips with the sandwiches, and chocolate cake with ice cream for dessert. Thank you, ladies!

The April meeting will be held on Tuesday, April 5th. We will begin Chapter 6 of Hoping for Something Better by Nancy Guthrie. Kitty Brewer and Diann Carter will be the April hostesses. We hope you will bring a sandwich and join us for the study and fellowship.

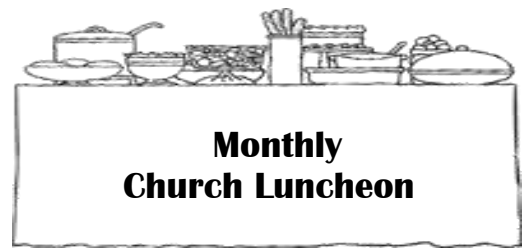

The regularly scheduled Prayer Breakfast was held on February 2nd. That was the week of the planet alignment. That morning was a little cloudy, but I did see Jupiter in the Northeast sky. The meal was delicious as usual and the message timely.

On Saturday, Feb. 27th, a second breakfast was held to coincide with Missions Conference. Our special guests were our visiting missionaries Rafael Ku and Dale Ellison. Dale gave us a brief overview of his medical ministry in Peru setting the stage for the afternoon sessions of the conference. This breakfast will serve as the March MPB.

The next Breakfast will be on Wednesday, April 6 at 6:30 AM in the Fellowship Hall. This will be the last breakfast of the year. Please mark your calendars and make plans to be part of this wonderful ministry.

See you April 6.

Mike

Our Mission Conference weekend was wonderful with our visitors and friends gathering around for fellowship and prayer. The fish fry and pulled pork were great as always and the congregation brought delicious sides for our Sunday meal. There were 125 in attendance! Thanks to the volunteers who stayed to help clean up. Would you believe we served, ate, fellowshiped, and had everything “ship shape” in 2 hours!!!

Now we’re ready for March and this month is particularly important:

- First, there is a date change. The luncheon will be held on March 20th following the morning worship service. Please note that this is the 3rd Sunday of the month.
- Second, Mike and Victoria Yeager have graciously accepted the task of updating our church directory. They will be setting up an area to take pictures and confirm contact information. See Victoria’s article for more information.
- Third, this will be an “Old Fashioned” Pot Luck/Covered Dish gathering. Therefore, pull out your favorite meat dish, vegetable, salad, or dessert and join us.

Smile for your family photos on March 20th with all the comforts of...Fellowship, Family, Fun, without the Fuss. 😊 😊

CHECK OUT THIS CHANNEL

By Ron Simpson

If you have a computer, and I am sure most of you do, you have at some point received through email, a FaceBook post, Twitter share, or in some other way a link that takes you to a video presentation. More than likely that video was of something world changing and earth shattering, like cats playing in water, baby eating carrots, or one of the multitudes of prank videos where you see someone getting, “punked.” Regardless of the content of the video, more than likely the link carried you to a video posted somewhere on YouTube. In its simplest description, YouTube is an online community of amateur video posts. If you have a Gmail email account, then whether you use it or not, you also have a YouTube account. In fact, you might not be aware that FaceBook, Gmail, Google, Google Chrome, and YouTube are all owned by the same corporation and your Gmail identity and password get you in to all these sites, and features as well as others not listed here. I am telling you all this because – (drum roll please) – Main Street Presbyterian Church now has its own YouTube channel. You may hold your applause.

Last year I began experimenting with some video uploads using a phone camera just to get a sense of what would be involved with doing some regular video posts through our website. I was pleased with the results, but with the equipment available it was difficult and quite time consuming to develop a useable product. The response from individuals accessing those early videos was positive and promising.

Earlier this year we upgraded to a digital camera which, when the lines are run, will provide a clean video and audio signal to both the cry room and the nursery. Already the digital camera has provided us with a purer audio feed for our sermon recordings, thanks to the sound work of our master sound engineer, Mike Yeager (take a bow Mike). Mike has been the driving force behind many of our technical upgrades that will ultimately expand the ministry of the church and provide a safer, more secure environment for us while we are at church. The new camera has made video production a greater possibility for the ministry of Main Street Presbyterian Church.

Development of video means we can provide a home worship resource for our shut-ins. Our sick, elderly, and hospitalized, can now have the chance to catch up on special studies, and worship services they miss out on due to health issues. We already provide audio recordings for our sermons. The video gives the homebound the opportunity to enjoy the scripture readings, prayers, and music that makes part of a worship service. One member of the church who regularly listens to the sermons told me that the video was much easier to focus on than audio alone. Video also allows someone who may be moving here or looking for a church to visit an idea of what our services are like.

In February we were fortunate to have Dr. David Foster bring a series of four lessons on Biblical and marriage enrichment. His series created a great opportunity to experiment with expanding the idea of developing videos. Two of his lessons are posted and the other two are in production. If you missed any of these, here is your chance to get caught up. All three of Rafael Ku’s sermons from the mission conference are uploaded as video and as audio. You can access his sermons, both audio and video through the church website and on YouTube. We continue also to post sermons on Sermon Audio, which allows you to download audio straight onto your cell phone or computer.

That brings us back to the whole YouTube channel discussion. A channel is a location on YouTube where you can post and list videos and organize or group them in playlists. You can find our YouTube channel by going to YouTube and searching for, “Main Street Presbyterian Church Media.” When you find our channel, if you don’t mind, please hit the subscribe button. That will put a link on your YouTube homepage so you can always get back to our channel without having to search for it. You will also receive updates when we post something new. When we get 100 subscribers, YouTube will allow us to assign an easy to remember link address for the channel, instead of the computer generated string of letters and numbers that now serves as our link.

MISSIONS CONFERENCE

Our 2016 Missions Conference was a great time of fellowship and encouragement to our visiting missionaries. The Rev. Rafael Ku was our Keynote speaker and this year was blessed to be accompanied by his wife, Sagri. Zachary and Rebecca came with their parents, Dale and Susan Ellison. We hope Lida, Christina Thomas' Cambodian daughter, will be able to visit us with her when she can be with us again.

The Youth Group Pizza supper was great fun. If we had not called an end to the evening, our group would likely have asked questions on into the night. Dale Ellison explained how at Peru Mission's clinics they seek to share the love of Christ in both Word and deed and what challenges they face building churches and clinics for the poor in the Peruvian desert.

On Saturday, Susan Ellison visited with the children and brought beads so they could make Peruvian necklaces. These were in part a gift to our young people as a token of gratitude for the Christmas cards we send to encourage their family. Christina Thomas also spent time with all the young people. Ask them if they can remember how she taught them to greet you in Kmai.

On Sunday morning, Brent Drown led the group in studying a special missions lesson. We also have children in the church who were so moved by the drought situation in Malawi that they took it upon themselves to raise and contribute a special offering.

Pastor Ku shared three sermons, one during each conference session. He challenged us to personally recommit ourselves to minister to the lost.

The presentations and sermons from the conference are being posted to our church website; if you missed one or more they will be accessible to you. Once again, Main Street's body pulled together to worship, fellowship, and encourage one another and our guests. The Missions Committee cannot, in words, express our gratitude for that faithful support!

Prayer Requests from Tom Edwards

Dear Wonderful Prayer Team,

Here are our most recent prayer requests for Hope Health Center.

Please pray:

1. for sensitivity to the Holy Spirit's leading with each person we encounter. Often the needs are great but the time is short; may we have peace and blessing trusting that our amazing Jesus is working in and through us.
2. for God's life-changing truth to be shared clearly, with humility, and that His precious Spirit will open their hearts to understand, receive, and apply it.
3. for unity for our team. Our team is tremendous and a blessing in so many ways to our patients as well as to each one of us; may we be thankful for this and cling to Jesus since we know the enemy hates unity and will try to cause division.
4. for several families in our ministry that continue to struggle with very serious illnesses; some have lost loved ones and are grieving.
5. for expansion of our facility and services; new patients are having to wait 1 month for an appointment. So, we have to turn patients away. We are in the initial phase of looking into plans for the expansion.

As always we desperately need your prayers, we cherish them, and we are tremendously blessed by them.

Pray! Pray!! Pray!!!

Tom

Tom and Connie Edwards minister at Hope Health Clinic in the US as well as lead MTW Medical Team mission trips internationally. They formerly were MTW church planters in Ivory Coast, Africa.

Clarke and Khrystya Norton Scheduled to Visit March 20

On Sunday, March 20, Clarke Norton will be visiting and sharing a presentation during the Sunday School time period.

Clarke has been serving on a Short-Term basis with Mission to the World. He leads University level Bible studies, helps to oversee community outreach projects, and visits to the local orphanage. They have come to the United States to participate in training sessions and visit as much as possible.

Clarke and Khrysta were married last year. For her, this trip is also an immersion in Clarke's culture and an opportunity to develop relationships with his family. It is their desire that their marriage will be a witness of the love of Christ. Please pray that it will always be so. This will be our first opportunity to welcome Khrystya.

Khrystya and I have thoroughly enjoyed serving together this first year of marriage. The Father graciously continues to work on us as much as he works through us. We look forward to telling you more about this soon...

BACK TO BACK CATASTROPHES

This is a very challenging time for the little country of Malawi. There is hunger in the land. People are lining up at ADMARC locations (where grain is stored) in a desperate attempt to get food. The Malawian currency, known as the kwacha, has been in a tailspin for over six months now and has lost half its value during this time. Inflation is a problem.

--Larry Brown, one of Main Street's missionaries Feb. 9, 2016

Our friends and missionaries in Malawi (Jack and Nell Chinchen and Larry Brown) have a particularly urgent need right now. Main Street has supported African Bible Colleges since Jack and Nell Chinchen left Mississippi to found her in 1970. Please consider giving for this special need.

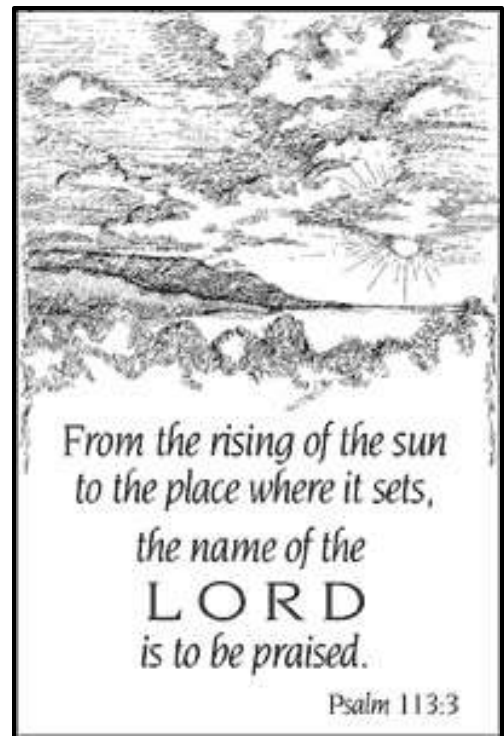

Paul Chinchen, Jack and Nell Chinchen's son, left for Malawi Feb. 29 and will be there for at least two weeks to personally oversee the purchase and distribution of maize. One 50kg bag costs $15. His goal is to purchase 2,000 bags of maize, each of which will feed a family for a month.

Malawi - already ranked among the 10 poorest countries in the world - has suffered back to back difficult years. In early 2015 the country was whipped by twin typhoons, causing massive flooding that wiped out nearly a third of the nation's crops. Twelve months later we have an equally catastrophic problem - severe drought - possibly the worst in the 27 years I have been in Malawi. And now, to further exacerbate the dire situation, Malawi's currency has plummeted, driving up the price of the primary staple - maize - by over 200%. It's difficult to explain, but for the average Malawian this has been devastating.

IT IS NOW TIME FOR US TO HELP
This morning (Feb. 17, 2016) a BBC report listed Malawi as one of 6 countries in southern Africa that are at the National Emergency Stage of a food shortage. Voice of America has also been covering the crisis, and estimates that over two million people in Malawi are in need of immediate food aid. This need will be ongoing, so if you can't give immediately, give later. TO GIVE PARTICULARLY TO THIS NEED, PLEASE MARK YOUR GIFT MALAWI.

View more information in your browser

At the time of the printing of this newsletter enough donations have been given at Main Street to provide 272 families in Malawi with maize for one month.

FAITH PROMISE

Please continue to pray about your participation in our Faith Promise campaign. This method of missions support has been the most successful here at Main Street. Last year, the Missions Fund was less than half what it has been historically. But, we also had twice as many participants in the program!

We do not have any reserve funds and the budget going forward will be entirely dependent upon the pledges made between now and the end of May.

Faith Promise devotional booklets are available along with the card collection boxes in the Chapel. You may make your pledge anonymously if you wish. If you know an amount you would like to give outside the program, alter the Faith Promise card and still use it to make a pledge. Only the committee chairman, Russ Russell, sees the cards as he prepares a grand total of pledges for use in preparing the budget. The fulfillment of the pledge is entirely between you and the Lord. We trust Him with your pledge.

Say Cheese!

New Church Directory

Let's connect! An updated church directory is a great first step, don't you think?

Please help MSPC kickoff this process. At the congregational lunch in March, a photography space will be setup in a corner of the fellowship hall. While you mingle and dine, take a moment to have your picture taken and to complete a short form.

Don't be shy! The new directory will be digital, but access will be given only through email invitation with hard copies available to members upon request. This format will be much easier to maintain and update while also offering more protection to those concerned about privacy or security issues.

There's no need to sift through your personal photo gallery and remember to submit a picture. For the convenience factor and to lend more uniformity to the directory, a simple, neutral-colored backdrop will be used on picture day. All you need to bring is a smile!

If you're not able to attend the March luncheon, there will be other opportunities to provide your contact information and have your photo taken soon. Tune in to the morning announcements each Sunday to hear when the first make-up day will be.

With love and gratitude,

Victoria Yeager

Preschool News

February was an exciting month here at Main Street Christian School. We stayed busy with our units and celebrating Valentine's Day. Our twos and threes partied and swapped valentines among friends, while our fours had a formal "tea party". They dressed in their Sunday best and practiced being gentlemen and little ladies. Manners and proper tea party etiquette were demonstrated throughout the morning.

Parent/Teacher conferences were earlier in the month. Mid-year is always a great time to visit with each parent to discuss the progress their child is making at school. These little friends are growing and changing every day. It is amazing to see how they've grown since August!!!

Other units of study this month included Presidents, Dental Health, Teddy Bears, and Colors, Shapes, and Numbers. March looks to be just as busy with Dr. Seuss' birthday, Cowboy week, Spring Break, and Easter.

We have started enrolling for the Fall. Be sure to tell your friends about all the fun things happening at Main Street Christian School. We still have spots in our two, three, and four year old classes. Call 328-0240 and set up a time to come and visit!

In His Service,
Cindy
