

MISSIONARIES OF THE MONTH:

John & Jessica Cropsey

Here's what's ahead in 2025:

-5 Rwandese, 1 Bahamian, and 1 Congolese. Dr. Alain Bachweki from Eastern Congo was chosen as the Eye Love Africa scholarship recipient for this cohort. We're excited to welcome and invest in all these young doctors!

-Jess will dive into her new part-time role at RIIO as Academic Officer. She's hoping to use her skills to relieve the administrative burden of the RIIO directors and faculty.

-We're hoping to purchase a home in Kigali very soon. It's been a year and a half long process of waiting, looking, disappointment, and denial.

Prayer Requests:

-The new "Holistic Eye Care Coordinators" who will begin work in January and for us as we seek to provide supervision and direction.

-Elise & Micah's return to school on Saturday. Trying to soak up every minute of their last few days with us!

-God's provision of an affordable house for us that will free us from a rental situation.

-Recovery of John's phone and other items that were stolen from our home about a week ago. Authorities are currently investigating.

John & Jessica Cropsey continue the fight against needless blindness in East Africa, in the name of Christ, in partnership with the Rwandan International Institute of Ophthalmology (RIIO).

Their new project with Serge is called Eye Love Africa. The goals include: assisting RIIO with the creation of their own clinic and OR space, supporting Dr. Toney in Eastern Congo as he does cataract surgeries in a remote province, providing the Kibuye Eye Clinic with a one-time gift and supporting the new RIIO graduates with surgical mentorship, equipment, and supplies as they begin work in rural district hospitals in Rwanda.

MISSIONARIES OF THE MONTH:

John & Jessica Cropsey

Here's what's ahead in 2025:

-5 Rwandese, 1 Bahamian, and 1 Congolese. Dr. Alain Bachweki from Eastern Congo was chosen as the Eye Love Africa scholarship recipient for this cohort. We're excited to welcome and invest in all these young doctors!

-Jess will dive into her new part-time role at RIIO as Academic Officer. She's hoping to use her skills to relieve the administrative burden of the RIIO directors and faculty.

-We're hoping to purchase a home in Kigali very soon. It's been a year and a half long process of waiting, looking, disappointment, and denial.

Prayer Requests:

-The new "Holistic Eye Care Coordinators" who will begin work in January and for us as we seek to provide supervision and direction.

-Elise & Micah's return to school on Saturday. Trying to soak up every minute of their last few days with us!

-God's provision of an affordable house for us that will free us from a rental situation.

-Recovery of John's phone and other items that were stolen from our home about a week ago. Authorities are currently investigating.

John & Jessica Cropsey continue the fight against needless blindness in East Africa, in the name of Christ, in partnership with the Rwandan International Institute of Ophthalmology (RIIO).

Their new project with Serge is called Eye Love Africa. The goals include: assisting RIIO with the creation of their own clinic and OR space, supporting Dr. Toney in Eastern Congo as he does cataract surgeries in a remote province, providing the Kibuye Eye Clinic with a one-time gift and supporting the new RIIO graduates with surgical mentorship, equipment, and supplies as they begin work in rural district hospitals in Rwanda.

MISSIONARIES OF THE MONTH:

John & Jessica Cropsey

Here's what's ahead in 2025:

-5 Rwandese, 1 Bahamian, and 1 Congolese. Dr. Alain Bachweki from Eastern Congo was chosen as the Eye Love Africa scholarship recipient for this cohort. We're excited to welcome and invest in all these young doctors!

-Jess will dive into her new part-time role at RIIO as Academic Officer. She's hoping to use her skills to relieve the administrative burden of the RIIO directors and faculty.

-We're hoping to purchase a home in Kigali very soon. It's been a year and a half long process of waiting, looking, disappointment, and denial.

Prayer Requests:

-The new "Holistic Eye Care Coordinators" who will begin work in January and for us as we seek to provide supervision and direction.

-Elise & Micah's return to school on Saturday. Trying to soak up every minute of their last few days with us!

-God's provision of an affordable house for us that will free us from a rental situation.

-Recovery of John's phone and other items that were stolen from our home about a week ago. Authorities are currently investigating.

John & Jessica Cropsey continue the fight against needless blindness in East Africa, in the name of Christ, in partnership with the Rwandan International Institute of Ophthalmology (RIIO).

Their new project with Serge is called Eye Love Africa. The goals include: assisting RIIO with the creation of their own clinic and OR space, supporting Dr. Toney in Eastern Congo as he does cataract surgeries in a remote province, providing the Kibuye Eye Clinic with a one-time gift and supporting the new RIIO graduates with surgical mentorship, equipment, and supplies as they begin work in rural district hospitals in Rwanda.

MISSIONARIES OF THE MONTH:

John & Jessica Cropsey

Here's what's ahead in 2025:

-5 Rwandese, 1 Bahamian, and 1 Congolese. Dr. Alain Bachweki from Eastern Congo was chosen as the Eye Love Africa scholarship recipient for this cohort. We're excited to welcome and invest in all these young doctors!

-Jess will dive into her new part-time role at RIIO as Academic Officer. She's hoping to use her skills to relieve the administrative burden of the RIIO directors and faculty.

-We're hoping to purchase a home in Kigali very soon. It's been a year and a half long process of waiting, looking, disappointment, and denial.

Prayer Requests:

-The new "Holistic Eye Care Coordinators" who will begin work in January and for us as we seek to provide supervision and direction.

-Elise & Micah's return to school on Saturday. Trying to soak up every minute of their last few days with us!

-God's provision of an affordable house for us that will free us from a rental situation.

-Recovery of John's phone and other items that were stolen from our home about a week ago. Authorities are currently investigating.

John & Jessica Cropsey continue the fight against needless blindness in East Africa, in the name of Christ, in partnership with the Rwandan International Institute of Ophthalmology (RIIO).

Their new project with Serge is called Eye Love Africa. The goals include: assisting RIIO with the creation of their own clinic and OR space, supporting Dr. Toney in Eastern Congo as he does cataract surgeries in a remote province, providing the Kibuye Eye Clinic with a one-time gift and supporting the new RIIO graduates with surgical mentorship, equipment, and supplies as they begin work in rural district hospitals in Rwanda.