

2084 AI and the Future of the Human Race

Review Notes and Summary – Last Week

Modern Science is coming from an atheistic worldview

- No creator
- No Supernatural
- Life originated through random, unguided natural processes

Age of religion is drawing to an end; the age of science is dawning

Dan Browns book, Origins

- Novel where science produces life
- Very compelling best seller
- However, there is no real science in the novel
- Browns claims are totally discredited by leading authorities in chemistry, mathematics, physics, etc.
- Jeremy England, MIT clearly rejects Brown's narrative.
- Tours – life should not exist via chemistry; life is a mystery, and we are nowhere near solving it.
- Life can not come into being through unguided natural processes.
- Laws of nature cannot produce life; they merely describe the universe we live in
- Newton, Galileo, Kepler all Christians, were discovering the creator as they explored science

Danger: Dan Browns book is being read by millions and they believe his science is truth when it is pure “science fiction.”

DNA – 3.4 billion letters in this word

DNA is God's language

Where did the “code” come from?

- Creation of superhumans with super intelligence
- 2050 replace the human race with a hybrid being
- Who will control the AI?
- What morals or ethics are being put in place
