Missionary Spotlight John and Jennifer Samson | Rivermont has received word that John has accepted a new role with DOOR International that will allow him to use his specialized training in deaf translation in a broader context. He will be working with the CEDAR Institute, developing curriculum for teaching Hebrew to deaf consultants in translation. This seems to be a perfect fit for John's gifts, and they are excited by this new opportunity. John and Jennifer will be staying in Washington State, where John's family lives, instead of returning to Kenya.
