Sermon Discussion Questions: 1 Peter 1:14-17
February 24th, 2019

1. What in the sermon encouraged you, comforted you, challenged you, or informed you?

2. What is one physical characteristic or quirk that you have picked up from your family of origin or those who raised you? Why is it that we often model our lives after family members?

3. 1 Peter 1:14 says our obedience flows out of our secure identity as children of God. How does our identity as a child motivate us to pursue the holiness of our Father (see Romans 8:13-17)? How would our pursuit of holiness be different if we lived to become accepted as children rather than as already accepted children of God?

4. If our former life was guided by the passions of our former ignorance, what influenced our life direction before Our adoption as sons in Christ (See Ephesians 4:17-20)? For you personally how has God's call given you different passions and different direction?

5. 1 Peter 1:17 says that our heavenly Father is the one who judges impartially according to each one's deeds. For Christians, how does the day of judgment both humble us and comfort us (See Hebrews 9:27-28)?
