A paradox is something that sounds like it _____ be true because it seems to go _____ itself but upon closer inspection, you realize it _____ true.

False freedom _____ you

In the bible, the flesh usually refers to that _____ desire within every fallen human being to live _____ of God.

False freedom is the freedom to live for _____, but that's not freedom at all because if your desires are your _____, you are still a _____.

If I am always _____, eventually I will be _____.

True freedom _____ you

The paradox of freedom is that when you are truly free, you are _____ to serve others.

True freedom isn't found in having _____ master, true freedom is found in having the _____ master.

Only in Christ do we have _____ we need to complete our _____:
to love _____ and to love our _____.

Christ has set us free from having to prove ourselves to God. we are free to stop living for ourselves and serve others.
