Strife _____ in the _____

When we have problems loving other people, we are quick to believe that the problem is with _____. But God tells us to first look at what's happening in our own _____. Here's how the gospel solves the problem of hate: not by telling us to be _____, but by showing us a Savior that _____ our hearts.

Strife _____ to _____

When you are tempted to _____, you are not being tempted to do something that is _____ for you. It's always something that in the end will _____ you. Hatred puts walls and distance between us and other _____, but the gospel of Jesus is what makes us able to be _____ again

Strife _____ with _____

The pain of strife will go on and on as long as we insist on _____. God ends strife the only way possible - by showing _____ through Jesus. The gospel removes from us the burden of making sure sin is _____. That is God's job, and we can _____ him to do it.

Because of sin in our hearts, we treat other people badly, but God changes our hearts so that we can love one another.
