The Man of Sorrows

Our Lord enters Jerusalem triumphantly, by joyful shout and palm branches. But that triumph is soon eclipsed by His suffering and death, where His true Triumph is found. May His victory be your consolation this day as you see through His Passion to His entry into the Heavenly Jerusalem.

The Theme of Today's Liturgy

"The Lord is my Rock and my Fortress and my Deliverer" (Introit). The deliverance He brings comes through His riding in, through His Incarnation and death on your behalf (Epistle). It is yours this day to hear the account of His Passion, His willing suffering and death, His active and passive obedience, by which He earns for you salvation (Gospel). That salvation is won by His drinking of the cup (Communio), that He bring you the Cup of Salvation, that you enter heaven triumphantly (ProceSSIONAL Gospel).

The Sermon

They could not watch with Him. What lay ahead was too horrible. He prayed that the cup be taken from Him, but it was His to drink according to the Father's will. All the disciples forsook Him and fled. Peter denied Him. The Sanhedrin sought false testimony to put Him to death. They found none. But still He was found guilty of blasphemy, although His testimony was true. His life was sold for thirty pieces of silver. But the price of your redemption is not measured in gold or silver, but in His innocent suffering and death, in the shedding of His Blood. He did not abandon you. He endured arrest, torture and death for you. He does not deny you. He testifies in your behalf before the Father. His Blood declares you innocent. It is yours to drink the Cup He gives, the Cup of Life. That is the will of God. He answers your prayer of "Hosanna!"

The Holy Eucharist

"If now I seek the forgiveness of sins, I do not run to the cross, for I will not find it given there. But I will find in the Sacrament or Gospel the Word which distributes, presents, offers, and gives to me the forgiveness which was won on the cross." (Martin Luther)

The Readings

Church joyously celebrates the Resurrection. The Feast of the Resurrection of our Lord begins Eastertide, a six-week season during which time the altar is vested with white paraments. Victimae Paschali, or "Paschal Victim," is the sequence hymn for Easter. This ancient hymn (written by Wipo of Burgundy in the eleventh century) has been sung for almost 1000 years before the Gospel reading on Easter. "Christ indeed from death is risen, our new life obtaining. Have mercy, Victor King, ever reigning!" The Lord is Risen!

THE CALENDAR FOR THIS WEEK

While the Gospel of St. John does not include an account of the Institution of the Sacrament of the Altar as do the other Gospel accounts, the "High Priestly Prayer" that Jesus prayed in the upper room before His betrayal and arrest, is found only in St. John (13.31-18.26). At the end of the Maundy Thursday Mass, the altar is stripped, representing the stripping, humiliation and torture of our Lord. During the stripping of the altar, Psalm 22 is chanted while the congregation sits in silence.

Good Friday continues the Triduum Sacrum, without Invocation or Benediction. Many churches observe the Tre Ore on Good Friday, or the "three hours" of darkness during which our Lord hung on the cross (from the sixth hour until the ninth hour, see St. Matthew 27.45, St. Luke 23.44). On Good Friday it is customary that the ancient "Reproaches" are chanted. The seven statements our Lord made while hanging on the cross are the customary focus of Good Friday, as the Passion according to St. John provides the Gospel reading. Good Friday is one of only two days of the Church Year that black paraments are used.

Easter Vigil is celebrated in the late evening on Holy Saturday or the early morning of Easter Sunday. It is a candlelight Service, and during the Vigil the first proclamation of Christ's Resurrection is made. This is done before the sun comes up on Easter morning, since "... on the first day of the week Mary Magdelene went to the tomb early, while it was still dark, and saw that the stone had been taken away from the tomb." (John 20.1) Our Lord's Resurrection preceded the sunrise on Easter morning. When the women arrived at the tomb, He had already risen! The paraments that were stripped on Maundy Thursday and replaced by black on Good Friday are now bright gold.

Easter Vigil begins with the Service of Light, when the light of Christ enters again into the Nave, still dark from Good Friday. The great Easter Praeconium, chanted during the Service of Light, proclaims the joy of the Holy Church over God's great acts of salvation.

The Feast of the Resurrection of our Lord is observed on Easter Sunday morning at or after sunrise. It is a glorious proclamation and celebration of the Resurrection of Jesus Christ, in which our risen Lord brings His saving Gifts to us. The Gospel reading is St. John 20.1-18, the account of the empty tomb. The Gloria in Excelsis, the Gloria Patri, and the Alleluias, omitted during Passiontide and Lent, return to the Mass as the

THE PSALM FOR THIS WEEK IS PSALM 22. PRAY IT EVERY DAY!

Keep in mind that this is the Psalm Our Lord prayed on the cross, You can hear His faithful suffering as He is left alone to die by His Father (v 1-15). You can also hear His confidence that the same Father will come through for Him, answer Him, and deliver Him (v 16-31, esp. v 21). These are strong and moving words which should be prayed whenever we consider Our Lord's death and our own suffering and heartache.

Holy Week at Zion

The Triduum Sacrum, or the "Three Sacred Days," are Maundy Thursday, Good Friday, and Holy Saturday. For the Church, these three Masses are observed as one extended Service. The history of the Triduum Sacrum is significant, and unites the Christian with the rich liturgical worship of the Church of the ages in her holiest time.

Historically on Maundy Thursday there were three Masses. The first was the Mass of the Reconciliation of the Penitents. This elaborate Mass is no longer celebrated in any church, and is lost to history. The main Mass on Maundy Thursday is the Mass of the Institution of the Sacrament of the Altar, celebrated in the evening.

The Chrism Mass, celebrated as the second Mass of Maundy Thursday, was held historically only in Cathedral churches, and presided over by the Bishop. At this Mass, oil was blessed for use in the upcoming year. The timing of the Mass allowed for the oil blessed on Maundy Thursday to be distributed to the churches for use on those baptized into Christ during the Great Vigil of Easter.

Two kinds of oil are blessed at the Chrism Mass – Oil for the Infirm and Sacred Chrism. Oil for the Infirm is plain, extra-virgin olive oil used for the anointing of the sick and dying. Sacred Chrism is also extra-virgin olive oil, mixed with balsam, frankincense, and myrrh. Chrism is used for the anointing of the recently baptized, those recently confirmed, and the hands of those being ordained.

The word "Chrism" is related to the Greek word Χριστός "Christ" and the Hebrew word מָשִׁיחַ "Messiah." They all convey the concept of anointing. Christ is the Anointed One.

The use of oil in anointing is practiced and commanded in Holy Scripture. The oil will anoint God's children as an external symbol of His grace and Spirit.

The Mass of the Institution begins with the Invocation, but there is no Benediction. The word "Maundy" comes from an older word that means "command." It is derived from the Latin mandatum novum, "a new command," our Lord's Words in St. John 13.34. On this night, Thursday night of Holy Week, our Lord instituted the Sacrament of the Altar. Our Lord's suffering in the garden, His betrayal and arrest followed (see St. Matthew 26.17-75). The strong connections between the Passover meal and the Institution of the Sacrament of the Altar provide an important setting for Maundy Thursday.
